INDIA MAKE POOR START IN SECOND TEST

Require 163 To Save Follow-On.

HUSSAIN RETIRES HURT

Calcutta, Yesterday.

India required 163 runs with six wickets in hand to save the follow on against England at the conclusion of the second day's play in the second Test match here yesterday.

A crowd of 6,000 was present when D. R. Jardine (42) and Levett (0) continued the England innings this morning at 257 for 6. The weather was sunny and the wicket was wearing well.

With Jardine doing the majority of the scoring the partnership added 24 runs before Levett was clean bowled by C. K. Naidu, captain of the Indian team. 281-6-6.

Without a run added Jardine left as the result of a catch by C. S. Naidu, brother of the Indian skipper. 281-7-61.

Jardine had played a dogged innings, scoring his 61 out of 146 in 175 minutes and hitting only four boundaries.

Townsend and Nichols saw the third century hoisted before the Essex-all-rounder stepped in front of a straight one from Mohamed Nissar, the fast bowler. 301-8-13.

Verity, the Yorkshire slow bowler, then joined Townsend in a productive ninth wicket stand, which produced 70 runs before lunch was taken at 371 for 8, Townsend being 40 and Verity 37.

The England innings closed after lunch for the addition of 32 runs, of which Verity hit 18, being undefeated with 65 to his credit.

In partnership with Townsend against an Indian XI on the same ground earlier in the week Verity scored 92 and took part in a century stand for the ninth wicket.

Amar Singh returned the following amazing figures for the innings:

MODIFIED FORM OF BIMETALLISM?

PRESENT TREND IS AWAY FROM PAPER MONEY

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO CONTINUE GOLD PURCHASES

WASHINGTON, YESTERDAY.

RUMOURS THAT ACTION TO INCREASE THE VALUE OF SILVER IS IMMINENT PERSIST IN SENATE CIRCLES, AND, IN THE EXPECTATION OF EARLY PRESIDENTIAL MONETARY ACTION, SENATOR THOMAS HAS AGREED TO WITHHOLD HIS PLAN TO HAVE A SENATE SUB-COMMITTEE DRAFT A MONETARY PROGRAMME.

Official comment is lacking, but President Roosevelt has made it clear that provision is being made to continue the gold purchases both here and abroad. The trend of opinion is away from paper money and towards gold and silver re-valuation, probably a modified form of bimetallism.

Senator Thomas favours a return to the gold standard as soon as the international situation permits, but at a lower rate.

Senator Borah urges a White House conference between the inflationists and the "hard money" schools, with President Roosevelt as umpire, in order to end the monetary dispute.—Reuter.

JUSTICE FOR SILVER.

Prof. Moley Supports Bimetallism.

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received January 6, 9.50 a.m.)

New York, Yesterday.

The former head of President Roosevelt's "Brain Trust," Professor Raymond Moley, writing in his magazine, urged "justice for silver," declaring that the addition of silver to gold as a metallic base would make the foundation of the world's monetary structure more firm.—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

Dollar Stabilisation Delayed.

Washington, Yesterday.

Informed circles in the United States predict that permanent stabilisation of the dollar is likely to be delayed beyond the present session of Congress, and perhaps until late in the summer.—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

Life Of R.F.C. To Be Extended.

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received January 6, 9.50 a.m.)

Washington, Yesterday.

The Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, Mr. W. Rainey yesterday declared that he expected a resolution to be introduced shortly, extending the life of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for several months.

Despite the United States Treasury's huge cash balance of U.S. $955,991,710, some expect that the rapid increase in emergency expenditures might require the issuance of new securities before February.

MORE POWER FOR ROOSEVELT.

To Negotiate Trade Agreements.

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received January 6, 9.50 a.m.)

Washington, Yesterday.

It is understood that President Roosevelt next week will deliver a message to the United States Congress on reciprocal trade agreements and will perhaps request authority to negotiate such agreements without Senate ratification, as an important recovery instrument.—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

FAVOURABLE REACTION TO BUDGET SPEECH

Washington, Yesterday.

Mr. Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury, has reported that the budget has produced a good reaction in the financial markets.

Mr. Morgenthau also said that the Treasury will begin borrowing "soon".—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

LONDON SILVER MARKET.

Prices Remain Steady.

London, To-day.

Spot and forward silver prices remained unchanged on the London market to-day. Closing prices were as follows:—

Forward	19 3/16	19 3/16

The London on New York cross rate, which was quoted yesterday at U.S. $5.12 1/2, to-day closed at U.S. $5.12 1/2.—Reuter.

This, it is thought, might test the offering acceptance which will determine the remainder of the programme.

It is authoritatively stated that U.S. $10,000,000,000 will be raised orthodoxy through the sale of bonds, notes and bill-certificates direct to investors bankers and insurance companies.—United Press

AMERICAN WOMAN DEAD IN SHANGHAI

Jump Or Fall From Third Storey.

NO SUSPICION OF FOUL PLAY

Shanghai, Yesterday.

Mrs. Hazel Christie, aged 48, an American-born British subject, was found dead in a street here at 5.00 a.m. to-day. She had either jumped or fallen from the third storey of an apartment house in the French Concession.

She was identified by a Sergeant of the United States Marines, who at 4.00 a.m. called the Police when Mrs. Christie and another woman were involved in a brawl.

There is no suspicion of foul play.—Reuter.

U.S. LIQUOR-TAX BILL

Passed By House Of Representatives.

TO YIELD $470,000,000 ANNUALLY

The United States House of Representatives yesterday passed the Liquor Tax Bill which is estimated to yield U.S. $470,000,000 annually.

The measure was passed by 388 votes to 5.

The Bill provides a tax of U.S. $2 per gallon on distilled spirits, U.S. $5 on a barrel of beer, and from four to 40 cents per gallon on wines, according to their alcoholic content.

Wines containing over 24 per cent of alcohol, however, are subject to a U.S. $2 tax per gallon, the same as spirits. Blended spirits are taxed at the rate of U.S. $2.30 per gallon.—Reuter.

They are demanding higher prices.

Adequate supplies are promised from independent sources.—Reuter.

BELGIAN CONGO AND TIN QUOTA

Production And Period Inadequate.

Brussels, Yesterday.

Belgian Congo tin producers today held a meeting to discuss the International Tin Committee's overtures, and decided that owing to the rapid increase in Congo production, Belgium would be unable to undertake the agreement for a longer period than two years, whereas the currency of the present scheme was three years.

Moreover, the Committee had so far offered a quota of 10,000 and 12,000 tons for 1934 and 1935 respectively, while Belgium requires 17,000 tons.—Reuter.

YENPING CAPTURED BY NANKING

OCCUPIED AFTER HEAVY FIGHTING

GENERAL SZE TO-FEI NOW A PRISONER

Nanking, Yesterday.

Marshal Chiang Kai-shek has fired a message announcing that Yenping, a city about 60 miles up the Min River was completely occupied at noon to-day, following the fighting which began yesterday. When the Government troops attacked the defenders and dispersed them.

Their Commander, General Sze To-fei, has been made a prisoner. The way is now open for the descent on Foochow.—Reuter's Pacific Service.

REBELS WITHDRAW

Nanking, Earlier.

It is reported from Hangchow that the rebels have withdrawn from Tachung within the Chekiang border. Experts are of the opinion that this is due to the defection to the Government forces of General Chieh Chih-shan.

The Nanking troops in north Fuhien are reported to be enveloping Yenping and some fighting occurred yesterday at Huddinghain. The Chekiang-Fukien border, but the nature of the action was not serious.—Reuter.

Chapter XV.—THE TREASURE-CHAMBER

(By GERALD BURRELL.)

"SPLENDID: Good Lord, what an ideal! Fancy using gold for such a job!"

The Pathan brought a heavy bar of solid gold, and Geoffrey tied the two bombs down tightly on to it with strips of cloth obtained by cutting up Mr. Merridew's discarded garments. Then he placed this in the hollow they had made under the loose stone, shoving it as far as it would go. Next he threaded a long strip of fabric
through both the rings on the ends of the safety-pins of the bombs,
so that when he pulled it both pins would be drawn together.

He then replaced all the earth,
pressing it round the bombs as tightly as possible.

"I think we want better tamping than that. Sher Khan, bring some more gold!"

Two more bars of solid gold were wedged in hard against the bombs, and finally the empty stone treasure-chest was placed against the wall to hold everything in position, with only the fabric cord
passing out into the room.

"We must run no risks. There is no much explosive in those bombs, and we must make this chest as heavy as possible. Come on, Sher Khan, let's fill it bang up with gold. I am positive that never before has gold been used for tamping a charge! And just think what an excitement there is at home now if anyone produces a sovereign!"

Mr. Merridew watched in silence
while Phyllis, Geoffrey, and Sher Khan carried great lumps of gold and filled the empty chest.

"There, now!" Geoffrey surveyed his handiwork with professional pride when the chest was quite full — "I don't think anything will be able to shift that. If the explosion functions at all and moves anything, it really should be the stone. I wonder what they would say to this at Chatham! I only hope the cord won't break."

He picked the ends of the cord up and held them firmly.

"Now keep right back, all of
you. Mr. Merridew, I think you will be all right where you are,
but keep your face turned away and your eyes shut. There may be some dust flying about. Ready, Phyllis dear? All right, Sher
Khan? Good. Eyes shut! Now!"

He turned away and pulled the cord.

There was a muffled bang. No stones or bits of earth were flung into the room and there was remarkably little dust. But when they looked at the loose stone all four gave a shout of triumph. It was now really loose, for it had dropped a good two inches!

"Now then, Sher Khan. Let's have the chest away again. But we must take out the gold first." Feverishly they worked and soon had cleared all the tamping away from the hole under the stone. But although the stone had sunk appre-ciably, they were still unable to get any hold on it. For a few moments Geoffrey gazed at it in thought.

"Look here what I've found!
Won't this help?" Phyllis was holding out an ankus, or elephantgoad. It was made of steel inlaid with gold. The handle was of carved ivory, and above and below
the grip were double rings of sapphires.

"The very thing. I only hope it is strong enough."

Geoffrey pushed the end through the gap above the stone, and the point met with no resistance. He turned it round so that the hook caught on the far side of the stone. The end of the ankus was through the stone wall!

Then he pulled with all his strength. To his relief, the ankus did not break, but still he could make no impression on the stone.
It was obviously wedged very tight.

"Come on, Sher Khan," he panted,
"put your arms round me and pull when I give the word. That's right. Are you ready? Now!"

Together they heaved with all their might. For a second nothing moved, and then something gave suddenly and they fell over backwards.

Without attempting to get up Geoffrey looked at the ankus. No, it was not broken. Then he dared to look at the wall. The stone had revolved about its slower end, where it was still jammed, and was now sticking out into the room almost horizontally.

Above the stone there was a black gap.

"Your torch, Sher Khan! Quick!
Let me look!"

Geoffrey's hand shook as he turned the beam of light through the gap and looked beyond.

Joy of joys! He saw a flight of steps!

Chapter XVI

SHER KHAN'S STORY

"Saved! I believe we are saved!"

"Let us thank God, my boy," said the missionary simply. He,
Phyllis and Geoffrey then knelt together in silence while Sher Khan stood to attention. He regarded his companions as unbelievers, but still he recognised real religion
when he saw it.

"Can we get through the gap?"
"Oh yes, I think so. It may be a bit of a squeeze for Sher Khan and myself, but you and Mr. Merri-dew ought to do it easily."

"Now, who will go first?"
"Wait a minute, Geoffrey, we must take some of the treasure,
even if only to spite Thompson!"

"By Jove! I had actually forgotten all about it. Well, look round and take your choice. But don't choose anything too heavy!"

Geoffrey went to the chest which contained the finest uncut rubies and tied up a couple of handfuls of the largest stones into several small parcels which he distributed in various pockets in the Tibetans long cloak and his own leather waistcoat which he had worn all along under his disguise of native dress.

"Well, sir, aren't you going to take a memento?"

"No," replied the missionary, "I don't think so. I will leave it to you, Phyllis, and Sher Khan."

"Phyllis darling, have you made your choice?"

"Yes, Geoff, I will take this and nothing else."

She held up a wonderful necklace of emeralds. "But the worst of it is that I will never have the pluck to wear it!"

"Oh yes, you will. Often. We'll call it 'A Present for a Good Girl
from the 'Tiger of Tibet'!"

Geoffrey was laughing like a schoolboy with excitement.

"And what's your fancy, Sher Khan? I advise you to go for concentrated value and take some of the big rubies."

"No, sahib, I would always have so much difficulty in disposing of them. I have taken some of the smaller stones. Oh, I have enough to ransom Jahangir or build the Taj!"

"Now then, Mr. Merridew, do you feel fit enough to start? There's no knowing how long the passage is, and even if we got out all right we may have to wait until dark before making our dash away from the neighbourhood of the temple."

"We must meet Jogaroo, sahib.
He is with the horses."

"Jogaroo?"
Geoffrey, Phyllis, and the missionary all jumped round in their astonishment.

"Yes, Jogaroo. I told him to wait with the ponies."

"But how, when, where? You have not said anything about it."

"As for that, sahib, what opportunities have we had for talk or news since I joined you this morning, when they were beating the padre-sahib? We have been doing nothing except run to and from along holes in the ground like rats, except every now and then when we have been busy fighting. Why, even in here we have been

Table-Cloths Back In Fashion

Stone-Coloured Linen Popular.

STONE-coloured linen is bringing the table cloths back to fashion for meal-times. It is woven to resemble bath towelling, and all the edges are felt in a neatly cut fringe. Runners and mats of this linen thread are woven differently in a design of squares, so there is no need to hide a decorative new table.

The Wearing Of Jewels

Be Sparing In Your Use Of Them.

WEAR real jewels by all means, if you have them and they are well set and becoming to your type—stud earrings, clips or crochets set with diamonds and onyx, pearls or crystal, emeralds or what you will; rings, too, but never much of anything at one time, only a note of brilliance or a glow of fire, to which the sombre tones of our autumn clothes act as a wonderful foil.

Handbags More Capacious

THE new tile mesh handbags for evening have a jewelled tassel opening one side and a powder compact cunningly fixed on the outside corner. More space for things inside.

Musical Voices

An Enduring Charm In Woman.

AMONG the most enduring charms that a woman can have is a pleasing voice. Many a beautiful woman loses admirers when she speaks, because of shrill, or harsh, and unsympathetic tones in her voice, while often an ugly woman is remembered simply because of the musical intonation of her voice when she talked.

A monotonous voice can be almost as boring and unpleasant as one that is discordant, but both proved if the training is begun varieties can almost always be im- while one is young.

Evening Blouses

Jumper-And-Skirt Dinner Fashion.

EVENING blouses come to take the place of last year's jackets. They have long tailored sleeves, full at the shoulders—plain necks and closely fitting waists.

Velvet and the many new metalised silks and wools are the blouse fabrics. When the evening dress is of velvet the blouse buttons over and provides a novel jumper-and-skirt fashion for dinner.

Fashion Points From Paris

Ties And Scarves.

AN afternoon overcoat that continues to be pursued as an elegant item is the one of stiff black-satin. It looks interesting all over again in the mid-season collections, still made on a three-quarter semi-fitted line but worn over a smart tailored black suit.

Art student's bow ties of contrasting pale or bright coloured satin are effective notes at necklines for some of the latest frocks—frocks that break into the lunch and tea hour. Pale wheaten coloured satin is one suggestion with navy blue.

Short muffler scarves of stiff velvet are attractive for morning wear. They could be worn in the afternoon instead of fur necklets.

Colour-Varnished Pearl Beads

Irridescence Of Opal.

OCCASIONALLY there is still a dress that needs a necklace, and there is a new treatment of pearl beads which produces an enchanting effect for the purpose.

The pearls are colour varnished so that they no longer look like pearls at all, but have the changing iridescence of opal beads, and adapt themselves to almost any colour with which they are worn.

Some Of The Uses Of French Chalk

A General Cleanser.

HERE are a few of the many uses which can be found for French chalk:

White fur that has become discoloured can be improved greatly by shaking French chalk into it. Leave for 24 hours before thoroughly beating the chalk out again.

White or light-coloured suede gloves, soiled felt hats and bags can all be rejuvenated if covered with French chalk and wrapped in tissue paper overnight. Brush chalk off the following morning.

Mud-stains on light fabrics can usually be removed by chalk, moistened and applied as a paste. Allow to dry before brushing off.

Grease spots yield to the chalk treatment because the chalk is thoroughly absorbent. Apply both sides of the fabric that is spotted, leave for a few hours, and the chalk will absorb the grease.

You may pick up a bargain at the household linen sales that has become slightly soiled at the folds. These marks can be removed by rubbing with French chalk, leaving for a day, and rushing out.

Precipitated chalk is an old and proven cleanser for the teeth.

What Not To Wear

Secret Of Perfect Dressing.

AVOID ALL HATS THAT DO NOT FLATTER

THAT your hat be becoming is most important of all; the latest and costliest model is worth nothing beside the most inexpensive and old one, if the first does not look good on you and the second does.

There should be no woman who does not have firm ideas as to what flatters her and what does not.

Every hat you ever possessed should have taught you a priceless lesson.

Once a woman, speaking of a hat she had paid a big price for but had worn only once, said: "I got more service and more satisfaction out of that hat than any other I ever owned, because I know now that whatever shape I ought to wear on my head, it is not that one, and perfect dressing consists chiefly in knowing what not to wear."

She was not far from right. If a hat is becoming, with something fresh and distinctive about it, however small or slight, and worn individually, it will be smart.

Expensiveness Of Gloves

GLOVES for every type of dress and made of all kinds of material are making serious inroads on the clothes budget. The new ones of black felt with kid palms stitched in white must be tried. Another kind is of kid with large detachable cuffs of a woollen material. Some of these cuffs are hand-knitted.

Ear-Rings Better Worn Alone

If you like long, pendant ear-rings for décolleté and look well in them, wear them without a necklace, even if it is a perfect match. A bare throat will show them off more advantageously and keep you from looking over-decorated.

EWIN OUT-POINTS FRAGGOTT FOR CHINA FLEET BOXING TITLE

NAVY WIN TRIANGULAR RUGBY TROPHY

Miers Injured But Club Lose 15 To 0.

WHITHAM OUTSTANDING

THE Navy won the Triangular Rugby Tournament yesterday for the first time since the 1931-32 season when they defeated the Club by a goal, a penalty goal and two tries (15 points) to nil at Happy Valley.

Among those present were His Excellency the Governor, Sir William Peel, K.C.M.G., K.B.E., and Lady Peel, H.E., the Commander-in-Chief, Admiral Sir Frederick Charles Droyer, K.C.B., C.B.E., and Lady Droyer, H.E. The General Officer Commanding the Troops in China, Major-General O. C. Borrett, C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., and his A.D.C., Lt. F. R. L. Mears, K.O.R., the Hon Inspector General of Police, Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, C.M.G., and Mrs. Wolfe, and Mr. J. W. C. Bonnar.

The Navy were full value for their win and displayed superiority throughout the game. Whitham, the Club full back, was the outstanding player.

The Club were unfortunate in not scoring in the first half when a bad move on the part of Lamport lost the Club a golden opportunity when he attempted to sell the dummy to Buckley, the Navy full-back, after receiving from Selby who was following up and ready to take the return pass for what looked a certain try.

Had Lamport passed inwards to Selby it might have gone a long way towards strengthening the morale of the team, but as it was it badly rattled the team.

During the second half of the game the Navy played with only fourteen men for 25 minutes of the game, Lt. Miers leaving the field owing to a wrenched knee sustained in the first half.

The Navy pack were the better and heeled as in their previous games, getting the ball nine times out of ten. The Club, when they did get the ball past the front row forwards were pushed off the ball by the opposing pack.

SAINTS LUCKY TO WIN OVER RECREIO

FIRE IN COVERED STAND AT K.F.C.

JUNIOR SHIELD SURPRISES

THE Saints won yesterday to keep on the heels of the Lincolns in the race for the premier league soccer championship, but they were lucky to win as the Recreio proved quite their equals.

Timberlake netted four times for Kowloon to cause the defeat of the Gunners in a game that was preceded by a minor disturbance in the nature of a fire in the covered stand. Fortunately the outbreak was discovered early and promptly quelled before it became dangerous.

The Navy commenced the defence of their Junior Shield title in auspicious manner by defeating the Athletic, last year's Second Division champions, by four clear goals in the first round series. The Artillery sprang a surprise when they beat South China "A" by an only goal, but the Services lost a representative when the R.A.F. went down unexpectedly to the S. China "B".

FIRST DIVISION.

Timberlake Nets Four For Kowloon.

ARTILLERY OUTPLAYED.

On the K.F.C. ground yesterday, Kowloon defeated the Artillery by 4 goals to 1. The game lacked interest, and the standard of play seldom reached First Division class.

Shortly before the game commenced, there was an outbreak of fire in the covered stand, which was fortunately discovered and extinguished before much damage was done.

Kowloon attacked from the kick-off, and within two minutes had taken the lead through Timberlake, who netted from close range after Combey had saved from Blake. Straight to the other end the ball was carried from the re-start, and Selby went close with a hard drive, which Cord could only just turn round the post. Snooks had a good chance immediately after when well positioned, but shot well over the bar.

Again Kowloon pressed, and forced three corners in quick succession. From the last, Timberlake headed against the cross bar, and as the ball rebounded, shot hard into the net, to put Kowloon further ahead.

Shortly before the interval, Woods reduced the lead with a hard drive from a pass by Snooks. Kowloon commenced the second half with a rush, and went further ahead when Timberlake converted a perfect centre from Blake. Within a minute Timberlake added another. Obtaining about thirty yards from goal, he darted round Allan to give Combey no chance with a well-placed shot.

(Kowloon:—Cord; Willis and Jones; Davies, Yeomans, and Hills; V. White, Lewis, Timberlake, Elliott and Blake.)

Artillery:—Combey; Allan and Wene; Rodgers, Greenfields and Worthington; Snooks, Knight, Birmingham, Woods and Senl.

Navy Beat Club By Big Margin.

STRANGE'S TWO PENALTY KICKS

At Sookunpoo the Navy easily overcome the Club by 4 goals to 1. The game lacked interest throughout, play being of a very scrappy nature with the Navy the superior side.

Within five minutes the Navy had taken the lead. Skinner closed in and struck the cross-bar with Rodger out of goal, and from the ensuing melee, Smith netted. Skinner then had a great drive saved by Rodger after a weak Club attack had been cleared. Howe had a chance but his shot went harmlessly by and the Navy settled down to enjoy most of the play. After 20 minutes Hudspeth rounded Strange and sent a glorious drive well wide of Rodger. The Club then improved slightly. Fowler hit the foot of the post after a good pass from Howe, and then James hit the post in the penalty area for S. Strange to reduce the lead.

The Navy started the second half strongly, being two more goals up within six minutes, Tong netting with a good drive and Langmed running through to place the ball well wide of Rodger.

James again handled and S. Strange scored but the kick was ordered to be retaken owing to an infringement. Strange this time shooting over the bar.

Saints Lucky Against Recreio.

LOSERS DOGGED BY BAD LUCK

At King's Park yesterday St. Joseph's were lucky to garner another two points from their encounter with the Recreio. The result was two goals to nil in favour of St. Joseph's, but it might well have been the reverse.

The Recreio were decidedly unlucky. Their forwards were equally as good, if not better, than their opponents, but bad luck dogged them, and scoring shots were either luckily cleared or they struck the woodwork of the goalposts.

A nice heading movement led up to the Saints opening their account through B. Gosano, who headed past Marques and a couple of minutes later, Ward put his side further ahead with a similar effort. Shortly before the end, B. Gosano was injured and had to be carried off the field. The Saints were awarded a free kick, and Beltrao went close with a hard drive, the ball striking the upright and rebounding into play.

Recreio:—Marques; Silva Netto and Bowen; Goncalves, Dolgado and Maher; McGrann, Castilho, Sousa, Gomes and Sequeira.

St. Joseph's:—Marques; Gomes and A. V. Gosano; Sousa, Beltrao and V. Marques; Lawrence, Ward, B. Gosano, Rocha and Costa.

ST. ANDREW'S LADIES' WIN OVER THE "Y"

Losers' Defence Collapse in Second Half.

CAER CLARK CUP HOCKEY

PLAYING a much faster game, the St. Andrew's Ladies' hockey eleven recorded their third victory in the Caer Clark Cup Competition at King's Park yesterday when they defeated the "Y" Ladies by three goals to nil. All three points were scored in the second half.

The "Y" Ladies, greatly weakened by the absence of the Dalziel sisters, put up a very fine resistance in the first half, but their defence collapsed after the interval.

The Saints were the superior team throughout, and should have won by a larger margin, missing four good chances in the first half.

M. Read fumbled a "sitter" in the second half, and this proved to be the only opportunity the "Y" had in the game.

After the change over the Saints broke away from the bully-off to score through I. Rogers during a melee in the goalmouth, and I. Gittins added another soon after as the result of a brilliant effort. M. Woolley netted the third goal with a hard drive which gave J. Weller no chance.

St. Andrew's:—R. Rose; G. White, E. Landolt; I. Woolley, J. Wong, M. Churn; F. Wong, I. Rogers, M. Woolley, I. Gittins and P. Gittins.

"Y" Ladies:—J. Weller; M. Portall, Hon. A. Fowler; Gardner, E. Thomson, D. Blumenthal; M. Griffiths, R. Blackmore, M. Read, F. McCaw and O. Brown.

C.B.S. SECURE FIRST TWO POINTS.

Miss Knill Scores Decider.

In a very evenly-contested game at King's Park yesterday the Central British Schoolgirls gained their first two points in the Caer Clark Cup Competition by defeating the Recreio "B" eleven by an only goal scored by H. Knill, the captain, in the second half.

The Recreio were superior in the first half. Recreio "B":—G. Roza; T. Noronha, O. Botelho; M. Xavier, E. Rozario, Y. Brito; M. Westerhout, C. Botelho, O. Ribeiro, A. Almeida and M. Figueiredo.

LONGER REACH WINS HIM THE BOUT

LAKE FIGURES IN GOOD FIGHT WITH HALL

BERWICK RECORD EASY WIN

HARRY Ewin secured a convincing points decision over A.B. Fraggott in their three rounds bout for the China Fleet Middleweight Boxing Championship at the Lee Theatre last night. Possessing a longer reach than his opponent Ewin was the aggressor, launching brilliant two-fisted body attacks that shook Fraggott.

A very good fight was witnessed in the Lightweight final between Ldg. Sto. Lake of the Berwick, the winner, and P. O. Hall of the Small Ships.

H.M.S. Berwick won the Open Team Championship with five titles and a total of 29 points against the Kent and 8th Destroyer Flotilla, who tied for second place with 12 points.

Ldg. Sea. Ewin completely out-pointed A.B. Fraggott in the Middleweight Championship and dominated the fight from start to finish.

Both men opened cautiously but Fraggott landed the first blow, Ewin taking it on the back of the head to return a pile driver to Fraggott's solar plexus, forcing the latter to take things more cautiously till the end of the first round.

The second round saw Ewin lead with his left and follow up with a nasty right hook which found Fraggott's head on more than one occasion. Several clinches in which in-fighting took place saw Ewin land several heavy blows which had a telling effect on Fraggott.

The last round saw Ewin on top from start to finish, Fraggott swinging wildly and missing Ewin's jaw on several occasions, while the latter connected two powerful blows which staggered Fraggott.

Ewin was rightly awarded the decision, the Referee remarking that it was a very good fight when awarding him the decision.

Lake's Ringcraft

Lake displayed an all-round superiority, his ring craft out-positioning Hall time and again who came in for a consistent tattoo of blows on the face, and body. Lake very cleverly drew his opponent after him to a corner and then cleverly ducked to trap his opponent. He floored Hall just before the gong went.

At the conclusion of the programme, H.E. the Commander-in-Chief made a short speech in which he said he was sure he was voicing the sentiments of the spectators in appreciation of the very fine sporting spirit and fitness displayed by the boxers taking part in the programme and congratulated them on putting on such an excellent show. He congratulated H.M.S. Berwick on taking five of the challenge cups.

The following were the results:—Heavy-Weight Semi-Finals:—A. B. Foley (Berwick) beat A. B. Long (Berwick) on a t.k.o. in the final round.

Feather-Weight Semi-Finals:—Tel. Johnson (Berwick) beat A. B. Barber (Suffolk) on points. Sto. Pryall (Suffolk) beat Sto. King (Kent) on the Referee's decision after a draw.

P. O. Hall (S. Ships) beat Tel. McDonald (8 D/F) on points.

HAYWARD HITS SIXES

THE Hong Kong Cricket Club maintained their 100 per. cent. record in the premier cricket league yesterday when A. C. Beck (5 for 27) trundled out the I.R.C. for 81 at Sookunpoo to enable the Club to win by 5 wickets.

A. H. Rumjahn again proved the mainstay of the home side's batting, Beck and T. A. Pearce causing havoc among the other batsmen. Tom Hayward hit two sixes and five boundaries in his 40 (retired) for the Club.

Peatfield Bats Well

Magnificent batting by E. C. Fincher (63) and N. A. E. Mackay (58), who added 115 for the third wicket, gave the K.C.C. a meritorious League triumph by 6 wickets yesterday when they were set 195 to win in 101 minutes by the Navy at the K.C.C.

L. S. Peatfield, however, gave the best batting display of the day when he scored 63 out of 103 after opening the Navy innings. Without giving a chance he hit ten boundaries, most of which were perfectly-timed square cuts.

W. C. Hung, making a reappearance in the K.C.C. team after a long absence, hit out fearlessly for his 56, scored out of 80.

A Glimpse Inside Scotland Yard

More Civil Servants Than Policemen

"THE HOME OF LOST CAUSES"

(By HUGH BRADY)

[It is announced that Scotland Yard has started a great new drive against the underworld. The first phase of the campaign resulted in a round-up of dealers in stolen property, one of whom, George Tucker, known as "the king of receivers," went to a long term of penal servitude recently.]

Here is an authoritative glimpse of the inner Scotland Yard by a writer who for many years has had unusual facilities for studying the developments of British police methods against criminals.]

THIS daily recurring name, "Scotland Yard," strikes up in the minds of most people visions of the romantic, perhaps sordid, story of crime hidden behind the walls of the great Embankment building.

In a sense they are right. But for the man in a hurry—the crime reporter, for instance—Scotland Yard is the home of lost causes. It is only when a crime has entered the realms of history that it finds its way to the archives. When crime news is fresh it must be sought farther afield.

Eight hundred people are employed in Scotland Yard. And when I tell you that only about 1 in 5 of these is a policeman you are perhaps surprised.

You would be further surprised to learn that a far smaller proportion are detectives. Fiction writers have led you to believe that Scotland Yard is crammed with detectives, ready at any moment to take a hand in clearing up baffling mysteries. How different are the facts!

Civil Servants of both sexes abound in the huge eight storeyed building, as also do uniformed officers, and it is only here and there you will meet a detective. It is in a circumscribed space at Scotland Yard that the detective stands on his own ground.

There are close upon 1,000 members of the Criminal Investigation Department—all officially Scotland Yard detectives—but there are many who seldom visit the police headquarters. Their work lies with the 23 divisions of the Metropolitan Police.

Who works at Scotland Yard? The Commissioner is there, so are his Assistant-Commissioners, and along the corridors of gloom the visitor almost tip-toes past the various sections known to the initiate by mysterious hieroglyphics.

I once heard a facetious policeman say: "A stone thrown through a Scotland Yard window would always hit a Civil Servant."

There is certainly some truth in that statement. The amount of clerical work performed at Scotland Yard is prodigious, and it is only the expert who can draw the line of demarcation between policeman and Civil Servant.

Why the telephones are controlled at night by policemen and by Civil Servants during the day has always puzzled me. The telephone room contains direct lines from Buckingham Palace, Wellington Barracks, the House of Commons, the Director of Public Prosecutions Office, the Admiralty, and the War Office.

"Mystery Sections"

Civil Servants control the General Registry, into which mail, cables, and telegrams pour daily, but the uniformed constables receive and despatch everything at Scotland Yard. Chief constables have Civil Service clerks, but superintendents are helped by policemen.

Some of the motor-drivers at the Yard are policemen, others are civil servants; but many of the "Mystery Sections" are composed of detectives, uniformed men, and Civil Servants.

This is especially true of the Idens Section, which sifts all kinds of suggestions.

The Pay Department at Scotland Yard is a huge section, and there are others dealing with printing, traffic, wireless, promotions, disciplinary boards, awards, recruiting, examinations, health, fingerprints, and criminal records, the staffs of which depart each evening at scheduled hours.

Visitors from everywhere think Scotland Yard is a show place. Let me tell you it is not. Tom Mix, the film actor, gaily dressed in his cowboy clothes, once rode his white horse to call on the Commissioner. He was asked politely by a policeman to go away because he was causing an obstruction. And that was that.

Have you heard of the Black Museum, which contains all kinds of curios—criminal and otherwise? It is in the dungeons of Scotland Yard, and it is a rare privilege for anyone not connected with the police to be admitted. There is nothing new under the sun, and there you would find (if admitted) relics of notorious criminals. Anything else? On second thoughts, yes, a sixty-year-old invention on somewhat similar lines to the robot controls of present-day London traffic—with green, amber, and red lights complete!

Scotland Yard, after all, in the public mind is the great institution that handles crime in all its aspects. So for the moment I must forget the people at Scotland Yard—the vast majority, who competently carry on their daily clerical and technical work.

The Central Branch

On one floor are to be found the headquarters of "Central," that is the Criminal Investigation Department. Its total strength is 116, and this number includes a chief constable, five superintendents, and four chief inspectors. Fifty officers belong to the Flying Squad, who almost invariably are afoot or in motor-cars seeking criminals.

Millions of Gallons maturing—
Older and better than ever

Never was your White Horse as good or as old as it is to-day. Years ago, exceptionally heavy stocks of the finest whiskies were laid down to anticipate sales which the quality would justify. These stocks are now fully matured. The result is that WHITE HORSE is now older and better than ever before, excellent as it was in 1932 and preceding years. This advance in quality and age will be maintained. White Horse is now the equivalent of a fine liqueur.

Hue and Cry

A Londoner, staying at a small country town, lost a valuable dog, and inserted an advertisement in the local paper offering £10 reward for its recovery. No one claimed the reward, so the Londoner went to the newspaper office again.

"I want to see the advertising manager," he said.

"He's out," said the office boy.

"Well, his assistant."

"He's out, too, sir."

"Well, I'll see the Editor."

"He's out, sir."

A singer was trying to persuade the audience that he had a wonderful voice. He struck all sorts of queer poses, rolling his eyes and making what he hoped were angelic grimaces. But he did not succeed. The audience suffered him in frigid silence, which rendered painfully audible a question put by a countryman to a neighbour in the front row.

A well-known explorer arrived in Hollywood with thousands of feet of film showing life among the various African tribes he had visited. He suggested to a producer that these would make "a fine ethnological picture."

Too Good to Lose

The magistrate heard the case patiently.

"Forty shillings fine and costs," he said.

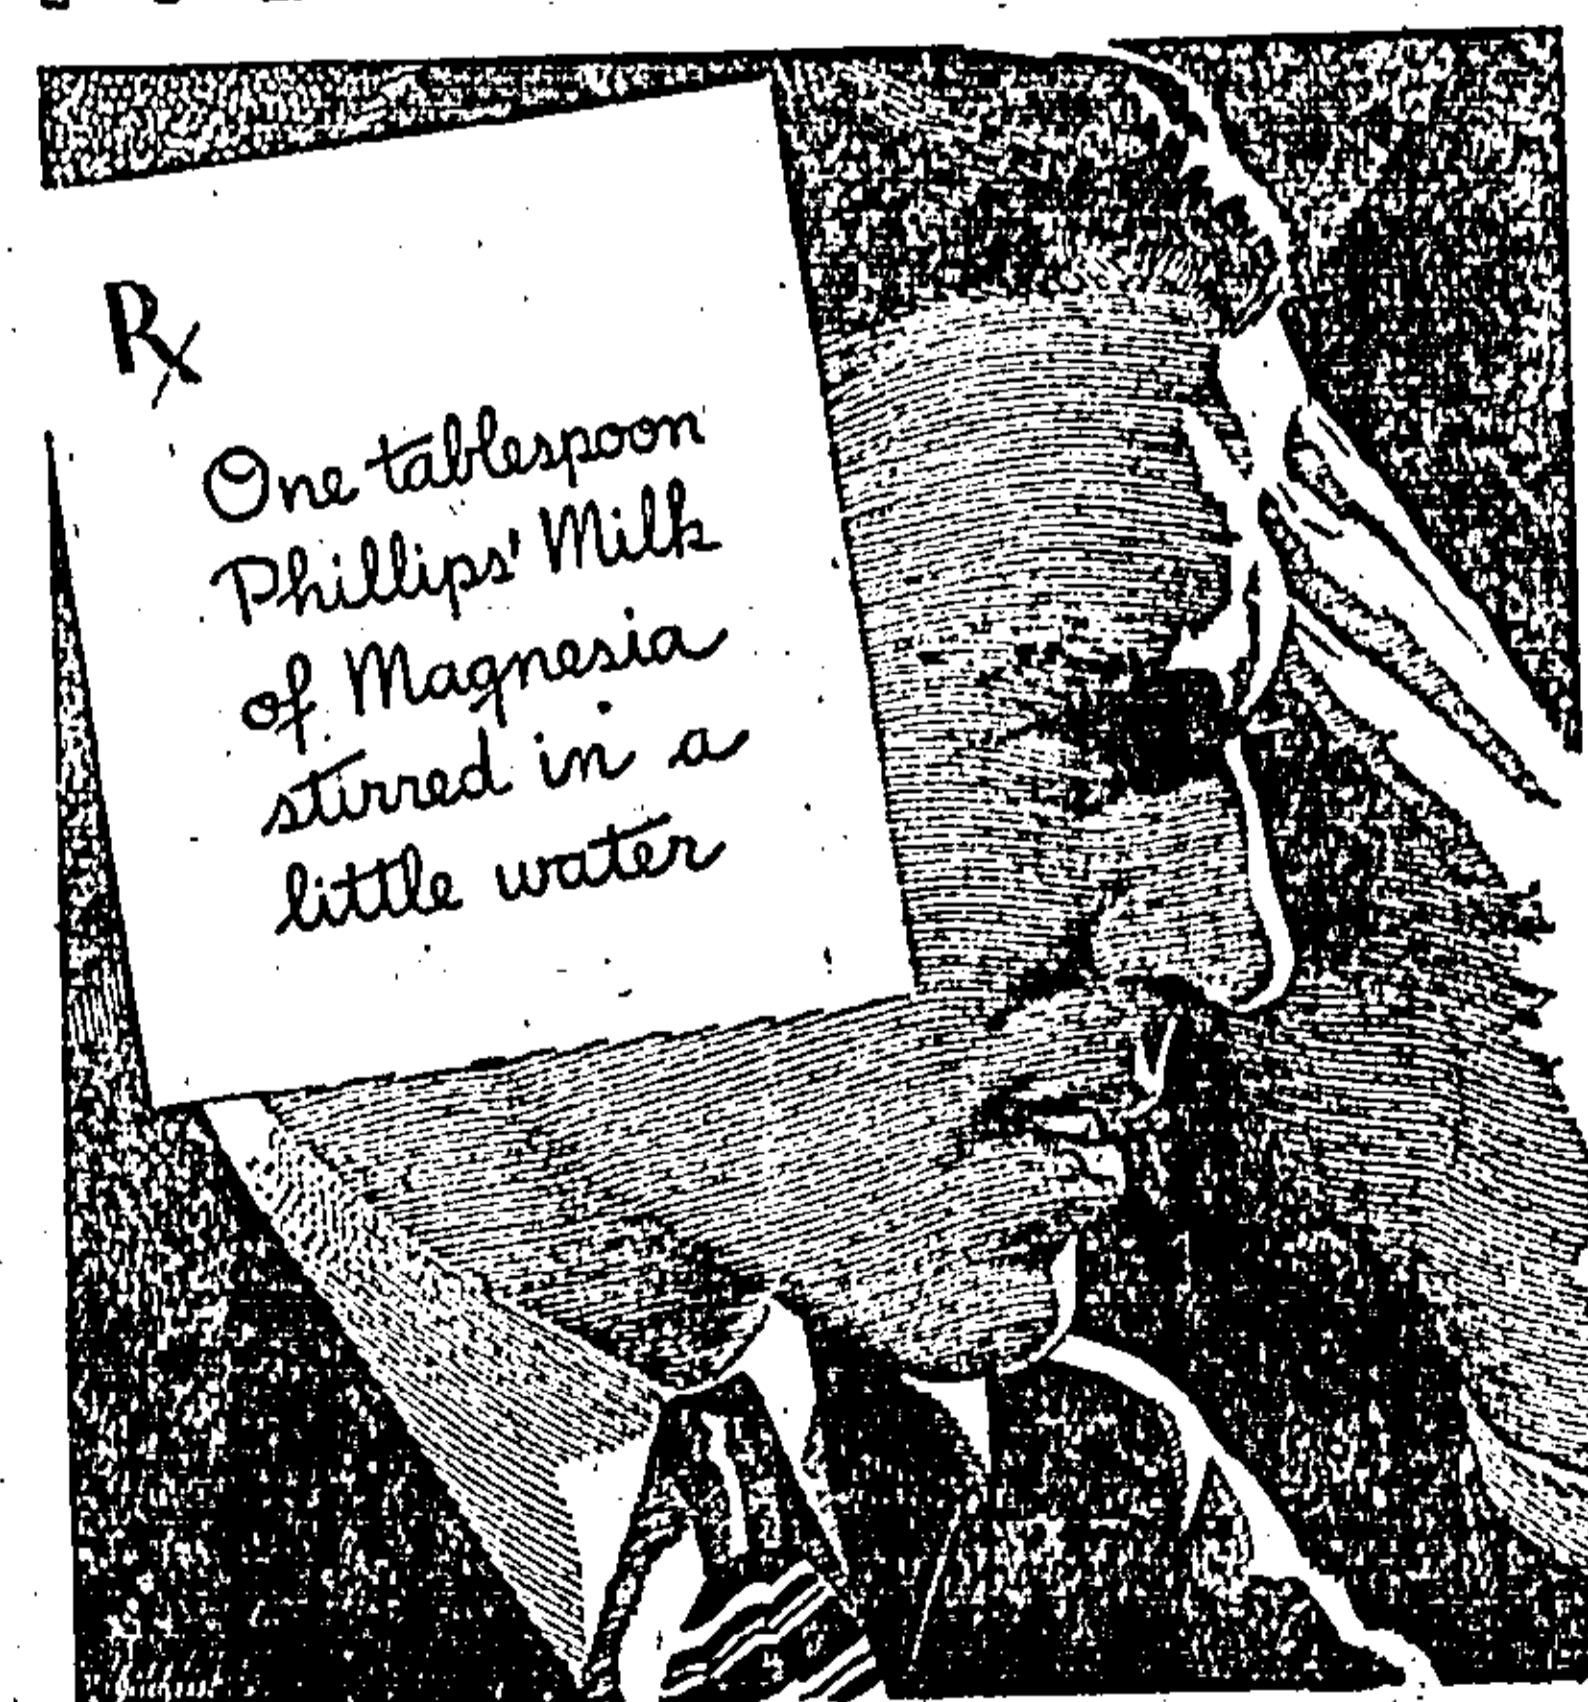

"Forty and costs!" exclaimed the unhappy motorist. "Well, I'll have to leave the car as security, I suppose."

"Oh, no!" put in the magistrate's clerk. "Take the car and leave your watch."

The motorist shook his head.

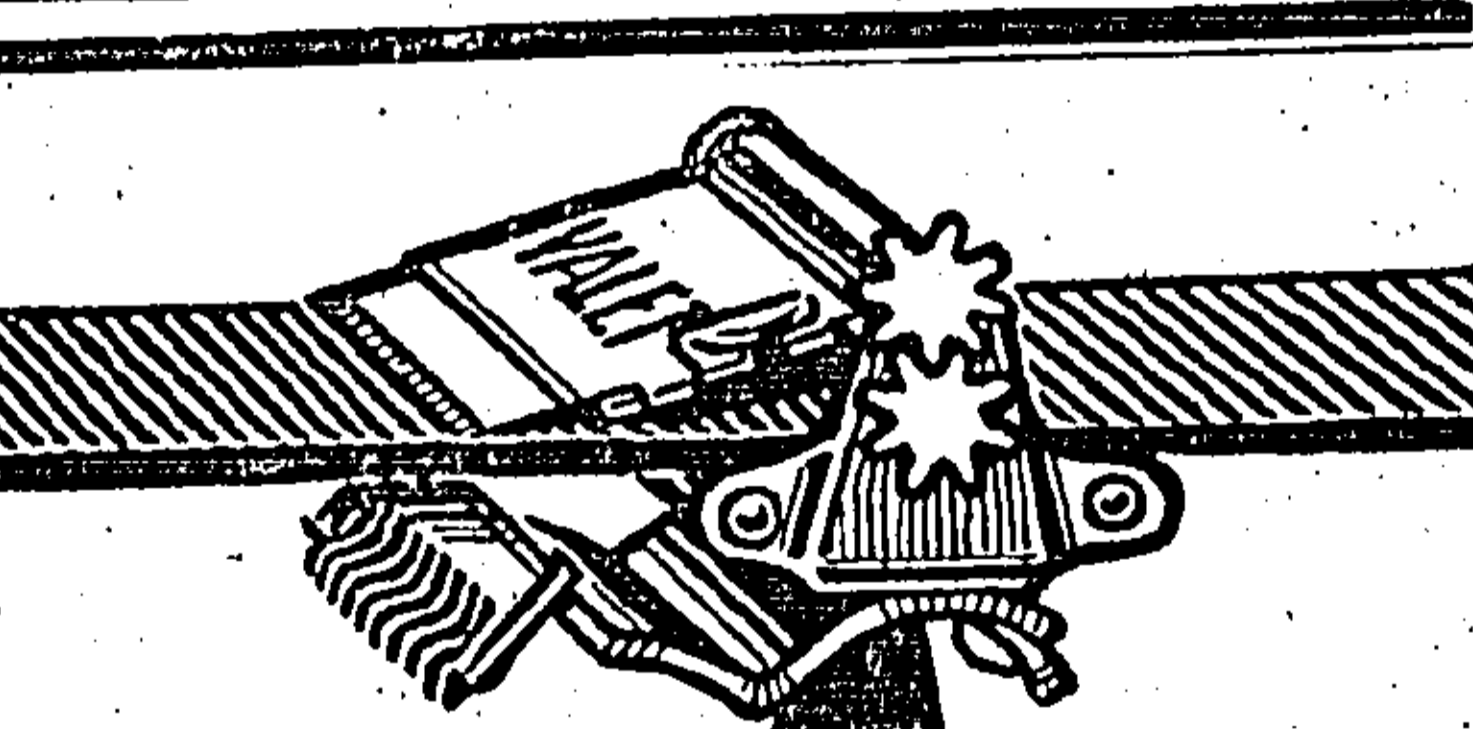

"Oh no!" he said. "That watch cost me five pounds."

EX-BANISHEE CAUGHT WITH BURGLAR'S TOOLS

Arrested by two Chinese detectives as he was descending the stairway of 61 Wellington Street at 4 o'clock on Friday morning with a pick-lock in one hand and a small chisel in the other, Kwok Yiu, an unemployed Chinese, was sentenced to three months' hard labour by Mr. Balfour at the Central Police Court yesterday on charges of loitering and possession of an offensive weapon.

Detective Sergeant Goodwin said that the defendant claimed to be looking for a friend named Tang Sam who lived on the third floor of No. 47. "There is no third floor in the building" added the officer. The defendant's record showed that he was an ex-banished, with two previous convictions for stealing.

This is the branch that burns the midnight oil. Night or day there are detectives there who are ready to respond to calls from any part of the world. In the main, however, London's divisional detectives are not alarmists. A divisional crime brings the men from the local stations, and they work with the knowledge that the reserve men at Scotland Yard can help at any moment—with additional men, perhaps, or by finger-prints, photographs, or wireless descriptions of wanted men.

Any piece of writing about Scotland Yard would be incomplete without a reference to the famous "Back Hall." That is the way into Scotland Yard when the main entrance is closed. A late caller is always seen first by the "Back Hall" inspector, a man of encyclopedic police knowledge, backed by a staff of constables, and it is these men who "carry on" in the stillness of the night.

The reserve detectives are on duty upstairs. In cases of urgency the "Back Hall" inspector can speak on the telephone to any of the staff from Lord Trenchard downwards. The light in his office shines nightly through an ocean of gloom.

I have told you that there are only 116 detectives in the Central Branch at Scotland Yard. Near by—separated by a bridge in the quadrangle—is Scotland House, the home of the Special Branch; strength, 132.

This is the branch that caught spies during the war, watches foreign revolutionaries, keeps its eye on the wild dreamers of new worlds. All its men are linguists and well travelled; their secrets are the nation's.

"Recovery" In America.

THE first phase of the American recovery plan was marked by the campaign, of but limited success, for the absorption of unemployment in industry under the blanket code. The chief failure was of the appeal to the public to buy — "to buy till it hurts," was one earnest injunction. The "brain trust" decided that purchasing power was lagging behind productive effort, must be replenished, and a new board was appointed to develop purchasing power. Foreign trade, it was urged, did not matter. There was surplus production of most agricultural products — naturally, since such production had been built up on the catering for large foreign markets — and this problem was to be tackled by paying out heavy sums to farmers in order to persuade them to destroy a percentage of their harvests. It is said that 1,000 million dollars will be necessary to finance this plan of destruction. The farmers have spent money in producing crops, and the Government is now paying more money to destroy them; but recovery, it is held, should be assisted because all this expense means employment (formerly styled waste) of "purchasing power." Another 1,000 million dollars is to be "pushed out" to "thaw out frozen deposits in banks." Some 2,500 closed banks cannot pay depositors, and so Government money will be lent for the purpose; this also will "assist purchasing power." Mr. Jesse Jones, head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, says that the amount of frozen deposits is really 2,500 millions, but the "loanable value of the assets does not run above the 1,000 million figure." The public debt of the United States will reach the record figure of $32,834,000,000 according to President Roosevelt's estimate in his Budget speech on Thursday. New York City Council owes $30,621,000 dollars, most of it to banks and the public, and is itself owed 181,900,000 dollars worth of rates and taxes, which, "despite frantic efforts," it cannot collect. The banks are to come to its aid and advance against the rates shortage, a solution of the problem for which the best Press praise offered is that "it is expected to have far-reaching significance." Still these N.R.A. activities, the "first phase" of the recovery plan, have had some success. "New ethics" have been introduced — to stay, it will be hoped. Social relationships have been improved. The N.R.A. has "driven out cannibalistic competition," and "dispelled the depression psychosis." Time has yet to confirm such success. But now the second phase of the recovery plan, as it develops, is "causing doubt and fear." It is the manipulation of the currency by the Government — "doing with the gold market," as one American journal declares, "the very thing the Government has been condemning private bankers and brokers for doing with the stock market." President Roosevelt has launched this phase, says the "New York Times," "reserving the right to change his mind." The "Literary Digest" declares that bankers are privately contemptuous of the gold-buying policy, and draws attention to Professor Warren's latest book, "Prices," expounding the theories which he is now advising the President to apply. Professor Warren holds that "low prices are not due to surpluses of goods, but to failure of the people to buy. . . . Raise prices and the impetus to buy will be immense." What, then, becomes of the over-production theory? The currency and exchange policy attributed to Professor Warren is utterly at odds with that in Professor Warren's book. Now apparently he declares that when once it has fixed the international level of the dollar, the Government can stabilise the dollar internally. But in his recently published book the professor says that "each country should revalue its currency on such a basis as to restore the balance of its internal price. . . . No international considerations should be allowed to interfere with this procedure." If ultimately the gold content of the dollar is to be constantly changed to suit local commodity levels, how can any new international stability of the dollar be maintained? Meanwhile the flight abroad of American capital is producing a new menace to the desired equilibrium.

London, December 21.

A Naval Opportunity.

The statement, published recently, that the British Government contemplate laying down five new cruisers next year, in addition to 1933 programme, has caused surprise.

Many people have believed that, since our tonnage already reaches the limit imposed by the London Treaty, Britain cannot build any new Warships except to replace those which become obsolete between now and the expiration of the Treaty at the end of 1936.

The position, however, is that there are certain vessels which will become obsolete in December 1936, and the Treaty permits Britain to start work on ships to replace them — provided the new ships are not completed before the Treaty expires.

Destroyers, Too.

As much as 62,500 cruiser tonnage will become obsolete in December, 1936, so that the Government could proceed with the building of seven of the new 9,000-ton cruisers.

There is also no reason why a start should not be made to replace the 60,500 tons of destroyers which will pass the age limit at the same time.

Back In Office.

Sir Gervais, Rentoul, has become one of the two vice-chairmen of the Conservative 1932 Committee.

He was elected to that position without opposition in place of the late Sir K. Vaughan Morgan.

It is only about a year ago since Sir Gervais, who had been chairman of the Committee since its formation, was rejected in favour of the present chairman, Mr. W. S. Morrison.

That was on account of his insistence on the premature publication of the controversial Private Members' Economy Report.

Although Sir Gervais, most faithful adherent of the Government, is again in office, he is not in the line

MISSIONARY LEADER VISITS HONG KONG

Dr. Cochrane, Of Peking
Union Medical College.

FOUNDATION HELPED BY DOWAGER EMPRESS

Dr. Thomas Cochrane, China's first foreign medical adviser, and the founder of the Peking Union Medical College, gave a most interesting address on Friday evening last at the home of Evangelist Leland Wang, 12 St. Stephen's Lane.

He described in vivid language the magnificence and majesty of the "Dragon Throne" of China and the glory of court ceremonial in the picturesque Throne Room at Peking, with the "Old Buddha," the Dowager Empress, Tai Hsi, seated upon the throne, and the deposed young Emperor seated a few steps below, while all the Imperial princes and other members of the Court, dressed in their gorgeous robes, knelt before the Empress.

World-Wide Tour.

In September last Dr. Cochrane started from London, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ervine, on a world-wide tour in the interests of world evangelisation. They reached Hong Kong last week and spent a few days here, having travelled through India, Burma, Ceylon, Straits Settlements, and the East Indies, and sailed last night on the s.s. Conte Verde, en route to Shanghai, North China, Manchuria, Japan, Hawaii, the United States and Canada.

One of the objects in view on this tour is the study of the present situation from the point of view of the indigenous Church, also consultation with mission leaders in various countries as to the desirability of having a group of prominent evangelists sent out to the Orient to conduct campaigns in various centres, within the next couple of years.

of succession to another term of chairmanship.

The 1932 Committee do not countenance automatic promotion.

Strange Allies.

Mr. A. P. Herbert has found some strange allies in his "no drink restrictions" campaign.

The temperance group at the House of Commons, of which Dr. Salter is a leading light, are considering Mr. Herbert's contention that the sale of drink at the House is illegal.

There is a move in the Committee to invite him to lay his case before them.

Post Office Journalism.

The average British taxpayer is apt to forget he is also a newspaper proprietor.

He will be interested to hear of an amalgamation which he has been financing. The Post Office is to publish a magazine for the benefit of its own staff, and that magazine will be a fusion of two publications — "St. Martin's-le-Grand" and the "Telegraph and Telephone Journal."

The magazine will be sold to members of the Post Office staff at 1d., but it is anticipated that members of the general public who are particularly interested in the work of the Post Office may also like to buy it, in which case they will be charged 2d.

"Social Gossip."

The new magazine will be published on January 6 and monthly thereafter. It is intended to be a bond of union between the 280,000 Post Office employees. It will give news of fresh developments in the Post Office service, social gossip, a radio page and a film page.

It is stated that the magazine will be self-supporting and that 100,000 orders have been already received.

The editor has been chosen. He is an assistant Principal of the Administrative Class in the Secretary's Office.

The appointment ends an internal difference of opinion on whether an editor is an Administrative or an Executive Officer. The Executive Class of the Post Office claimed that the editor should be selected from among themselves, and made an official protest to the Department on the subject.

"Congratulations."

Mr. John C. Wilmot, the young Socialist victor of East Fulham, made a most self-composed appearance in the House of Commons.

He did not follow the usual custom of craving the indulgence of the House. He spoke for only five minutes, which is one of the shortest maiden speeches on record. He was word perfect.

When he sat down he received a card from the Prime Minister bearing the word "Congratulations." It was tossed across the floor, and passed on to Mr. Wilmot by a Socialist front-bencher.

Mr. Wilmot read it, blushed, bowed to Mr. MacDonald, and put it in his pocket.

Seeing It Through.

Mr. A. P. Herbert's characteristic and persistent inquiries into the status of the Royal Palace of Westminster in the matter of selling alcoholic drink have not made him popular among M.P.s.

"At a dinner the other night," he states, "which was attended by many reputable and distinguished ex-officers, a certain M.P. said to me, 'What do you mean by interfering with us?' Repeated efforts had failed to get for this dinner an extension beyond 11 p.m."

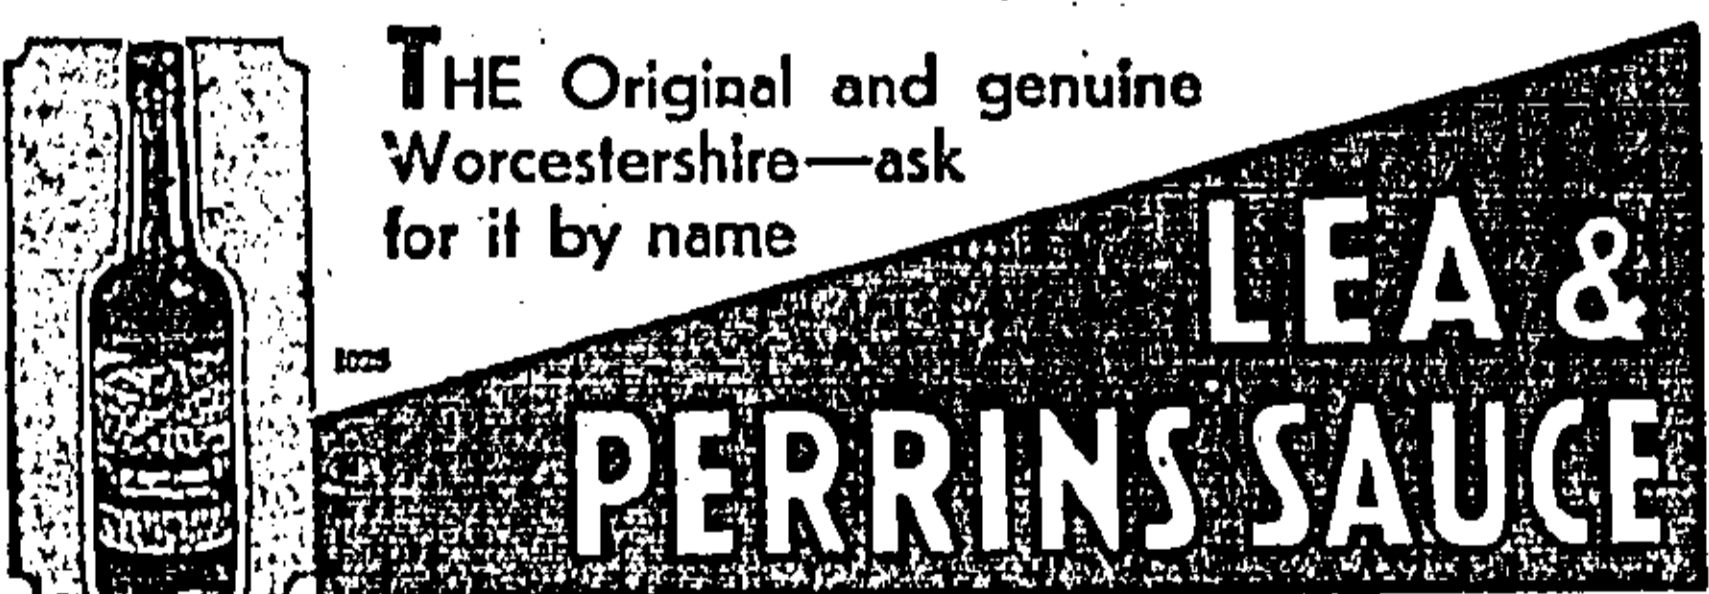

"But that same statesman made in his speech an eloquent defence of the Mother of Parliaments, which denies to us the simple rule which governs her own arrangements — that a man may get what he wants whenever he wants it."

Mr. Herbert adds that he has discovered that the Royal Palace of Hampton Court is fully licensed, that the Royal Courts of Justice have a publican's licence, and "that only the Legislature ignores the law."

EDUCATING HONG KONG'S FARMERS

Agricultural Show At Sheung Shui.

FARMING PROBLEMS IN THE NEW TERRITORIES

The annual Show of the New Territories Agricultural Association was formally opened yesterday at Shek Wu Hui, Sheung Shui, by the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, and is being continued to-day.

The gates were opened at 10.30 a.m. the judging of exhibits took place between 11 and 12.30. This was followed by a theatrical performance, lasting half an hour, and at 2.30 p.m. the formal opening occurred.

To-day the gates open, as yesterday, at 10.30 a.m. From 10.30 to 11.30 lectures will be given to farmers; from noon to one p.m. there will be a musical entertainment and from one p.m. to two p.m. public health lectures.

At 2.30 p.m. the prizes will be distributed by Mr. E. H. Williams, District Officer (North) and a musical entertainment will follow, from 2.30 p.m. to four p.m.

Work of the Committee.

The Foreword to the brochure issued by the New Territories Agricultural Association in connection with the Show states that the earnest and unremitting efforts of the Committee, to keep alive, during the past six years, interest in promoting agriculture and improving the conditions of the farmers in the New Territories have produced some tangible results. At least these results can be justified by the increasing quantity of vegetables transported daily to Kowloon and Hong Kong for marketing. The many trucks may be seen every day conveying the produce from the New Territories to Hong Kong and Kowloon.

Need of Trained Men.

There is yet, however, a good deal more awaiting to be accomplished. The Committee, composed of Chinese and Europeans who have envisaged the large possibilities of bringing about improvement in the farming population in the New Territories, has realised the many difficulties still lying ahead. The work of "ameliorating" the farmer's condition clearly calls for well-trained men rather than a band of amateurish public-spirited citizens, who have only zeal for service, without the requisite knowledge and qualification of agriculturists.

In recent years much has been said of the importance of agricultural development and improvement in rural districts, but few systematic projects have been planned for the benefit of the farmers. To earn a livelihood from the soil has never been an easy task, and in modern times it has become for the Chinese farmer even more difficult.

It is one of the chief aims of this Association to encourage the farmer in the use of more enlightened methods in rearing his stock and tending his fields.

Let it be admitted that the Chinese farmer is not easy to help. Countless generations of his forbears have handed down to him their primitive knowledge and beliefs and he is seldom eager to adopt the strange methods of the modern world.

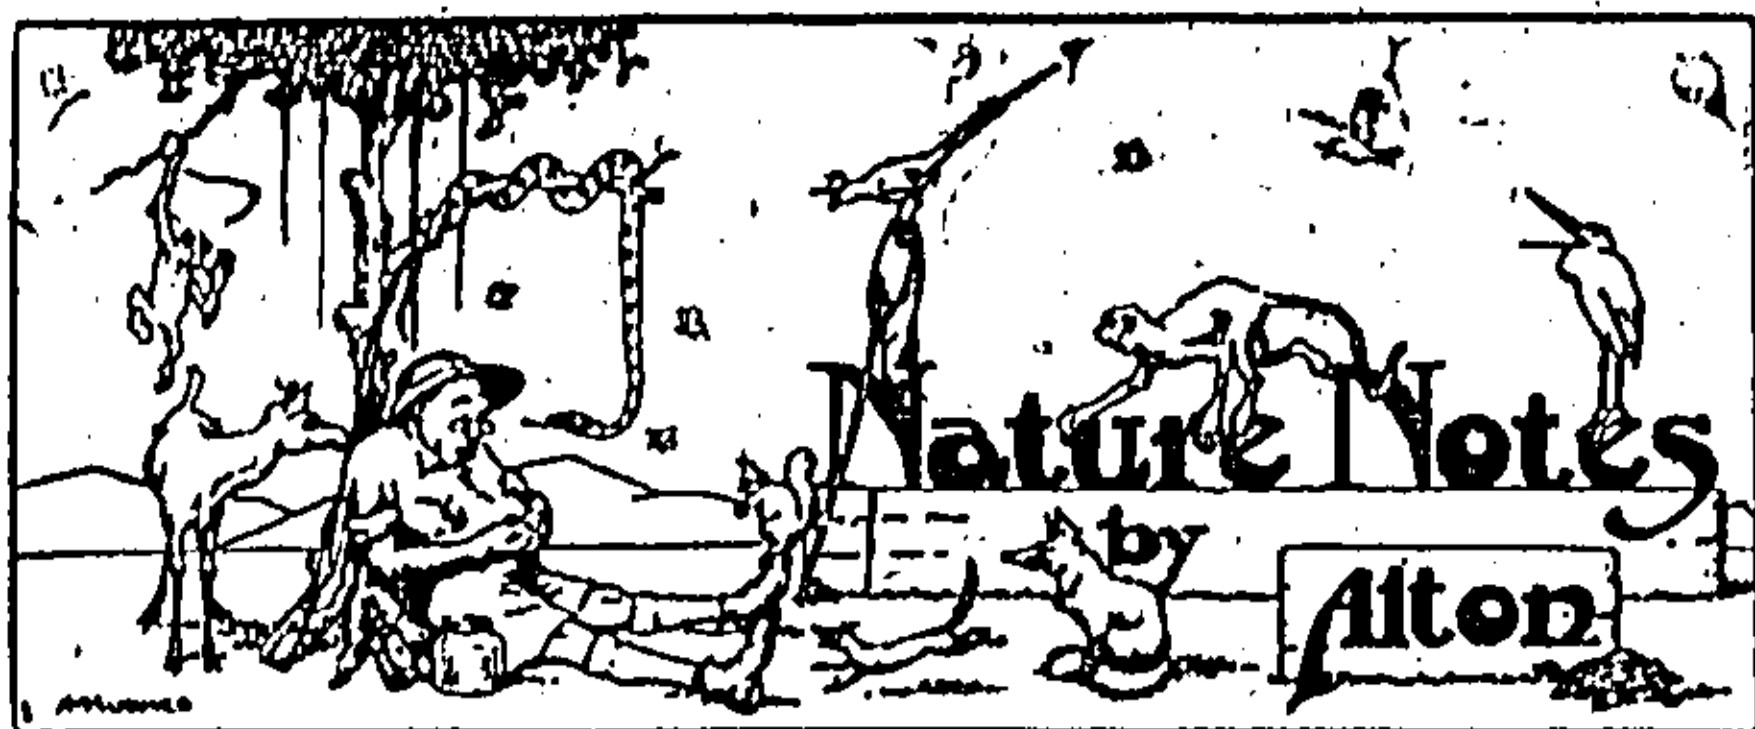

But there is much that he can profit from. Diseases among livestock are rife but little is known to the farmers of how to treat them. Plant diseases and inefficient methods of irrigation are further sources of distress and poverty.

Co-operation.

The Committee of the Show as well as the Committee of the New Territories Agricultural Association have been doing everything possible to assist the rural population in various ways, such as providing better seeds, and fertilisers and plants and distributing leaflets giving instructions on improved methods of agriculture and in seriously considering plans for the farmers to market their goods on a co-operative basis.

The Committee has devoted, for instance, much of its time during the year just passed to evolve a plan somewhat along the line of credit co-operative movement so successfully worked out in the rural districts of Europe and India in recent years.

The farmers, poor as they are, do not need "charity." What they need is a co-operative scheme to show them how to mobilise their

HONG KONG AND THE NEW TERRITORIES. — No. 87.

Camellias.

Since my return from home-leave a few walks have been made on the island and in the Territories and have been unexpectedly interesting. A walk on Stanley peninsula on December 16 led to the discovery near the village of Wongmukok of a number of bushes of a beautiful species of Camellia in full flower. The species proved to be C. drupifera and this locality is the only one on the island for this species mentioned in Dunn and Tutcher. The flowers are three inches across, pure white with scores of pale yellow stamens and possess a delicate fragrant scent. Some of the buds are tinged pink. This species is probably still in flower. Another species is in flower on the Peak—there is a small tree by Findlay road immediately adjacent to culvert No. 10—this is a small flowered species with white flowers about an inch across and long narrow leaves like those of a Willow tree which have resulted in the same C. saccifolia being given to this species.

The Peregrine Falcon.

On December 20 on a spur of Pottinger Peak overlooking Big Wave Bay, Shek O, an Eastern Peregrine Falcon, Falco peregrinus calidus, was noticed perched on a large rock from which it must have obtained a own personal and material resources to make their life prosperous and happy.

The co-operative movement is to teach the farmers to help themselves and efforts on these lines have been made for some years in Europe, India and Japan with the most promising results. The Committee of the New Territories Agricultural Association believe that if the Government of Hong Kong can be persuaded to support financially and morally such a scheme of agricultural co-operation and agricultural improvement, all the present disabilities in the New Territories can easily be removed in due course and that agriculture with flourish along modern lines in the New Territories.

At the same time, the Committee is also of the opinion that the farming conditions in the New Territories indicate that rare opportunities present themselves to those young Chinese who are specially fitted for agricultural service.

Before the co-operative movement was started in Denmark, for example, her farmers were as backward and poor as the Chinese farmers and the condition of her agriculture was worse than the present state of Chinese agriculture.

But what about Denmark to-day? Her butter is known throughout the world. Rural organization, both economic and social, have developed to the highest type so far as efficiency and success are concerned.

Chinese agriculture, in many respects similar to that of Denmark, will be immensely benefited by the establishment of credit co-operative organization, provided that there are Government experts directing the work.

Experience in Europe and India also shows that the co-operative movement can do much to improve as well as extend primary education among the farmers. Illiteracy is the greatest impediment in the way of improving the lot of the rural population and the co-operative movement is undoubtedly the best means of removing that impediment.

It is hoped that in the near future a conference, to be attended by officials and by representatives of various organizations interested in the welfare of the rural population, may be called with a view to forming more definite plans for the assistance of the local farming industry.

In nothing short of some such co-ordination of effort can the primary object be realized in the matter of rural betterment and of improved methods of agriculture in the New Territories, thus making Hong Kong self-sustaining in food supply etc.

Public Support.

The Committee gratefully acknowledges its indebtedness to the Government.

commanding view of mountain and sea. The path curved round at some distance from the rock and as we walked further along it the falcon turned round and watched us. Later we observed it leave its perch and mount upwards above Pottinger Peak.

New Bird Records.

Two excursions have been made to the Lam Tuen Valley, one on December 23 the other on January 1. Both were of unusual interest. The first trip (supported by the second) dispelled the belief that the Chinese Koel does not winter in this corner of south China. In the books on Chinese birds no hint is given of the possibility of this cuckoo remaining in Kwangtung for the winter yet we saw a party of at least 8-12 birds, of both sexes, in a wood on the south side of the valley on December 23 and on the first of January saw two and heard more in the Hang Ha Po wood. The Chinese Blackbird was also observed on both dates and a solitary Woodcock flushed from thick cover on the first excursion.

On the first of January we identified two species of birds, never before recorded from the Territories to our knowledge. Perched on the tops of the two tallest of a clump of tall bamboos was a small party of six little birds. Two were adult males each with a large pale yellow bill, black crown (rest of head grey) black round the eyes and across the chin forming a mask-like patch. Rest of body ashy-grey; under on abdomen, forked tail black; wings brownish-grey, black and white. This bird is the Chinese Masked Hawkfinch, Eophona personata magnirostris. A party of birds answering to this description has been seen on the Peak during the previous week; I should be extremely grateful if any observers who notice this bird could send me details of numbers seen, locality, etc.

The large white bill, black mask and forked black tail of this 7 inches bird should make identification a simple matter. On the same day was seen a Woodpecker, a Fuki Green Woodpecker, Picus canus ricketti. This species is resident in Kwangtung but we have no record of, nor can find any reference to the occurrence of this, or any other species of Woodpecker, in the Hong Kong Territories. There is no doubt of the identification, the general green colour, the black bill and a prominent black streak from chin to side of lower neck left no room for doubt. The bird was clinging to an upright branch at the top of large tree in a typical woodpecker manner though its tail was not pressed as tightly against the branch as we thought normal. It pecked a few times and turned its head from side to side. When disturbed it flew to a tree close by and uttered a series of single rasping cries.

MISSIONARY MOVING PICTURES.

Interesting Films To Be Shown To-morrow.

Many friends of the late Rev. David Clench, who were shocked to learn of his sudden death in Shanghai shortly before Christmas, will be interested to know that moving pictures, taken by one of his fellow-missionaries from the Dutch East Indies, showing the funeral procession and the scene at the grave, will be shown at a Missionary Meeting to be held in the home of Evangelist Leland Wang, 12, St. Stephen's Lane, to-morrow evening, at 7.50.

There will also be movies of mission activities in the Dutch East Indies, where Mr. Clench was a devoted young mission worker.

An address by the Rev. Mr. Dierker, describing the Bible School of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in Macassar, also the evangelistic work being carried on there and in Bali, will be delivered in English and interpreted into Cantonese.

All interested foreign and Chinese friends are cordially invited to attend.

"SAFETY FIRST" CAMPAIGN

Local Police Announce Arrangements.

COMPREHENSIVE SCHEME FOR PROPAGANDA

With the approval of the Government, the Inspector General of Police, the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, C.M.G., has been taking steps to initiate shortly a "Safety First" campaign in the Colony. A large quantity of posters and handbills in English and Chinese has been printed.

A further step was taken at 2.15 p.m. on the January 5 when, through the courtesy of the Postmaster-General, a meeting was held at his office to discuss details of the campaign. There were present the Deputy Inspector General of Police, the Director of Education, the Postmaster General, the Chief Assistant Secretary for Chinese Affairs, the Rev. G. E. S. Upsell (Hon. Secretary of the Hong Kong Automobile Association), and the Divisional Superintendent of Police, Kowloon.

The Deputy Inspector General of Police outlined the preparations which had already been made, and intimated that he was assured of the cordial co-operation of the Press.

It was decided that the "Safety First" campaign should be commenced on Monday, January 22, and continue for two weeks. During this period efforts would be made to render the campaign effective through the following Departments and channels:—

The Chief Assistant Secretary for Chinese Affairs undertook to enlist the help of the Chinese newspapers in publication of the contents of the handbills and posters; also to obtain, if possible, special advertising facilities for the campaign. It was decided to adopt the home precedent of the use of an emblem in the shape of a red triangle with the Chinese equivalent of the slogan "Safety First" thereon for display on motor vehicles and in garages during the campaign. The assistance of the District Watchmen Force in the distribution of handbills was promised.

Broadcast Propaganda.

The Director of Education undertook to arrange for short lectures to be given in the schools, in English and Chinese,—the subject matter to be taken from pamphlets which have been printed for distribution.

Through the courtesy of the Postmaster-General, arrangements will be made for a short announcement to be broadcast daily in English and Chinese on "Safety First." In addition, a special short talk on "Safety First" will be made three times during each week. The Hon. Secretary of the Hong Kong Automobile Association and the Postmaster-General undertook to make the necessary arrangements.

The Rev. Upsell, on behalf of the Hong Kong Automobile Association, undertook to distribute to members of the Association, copies of the handbills designed for motor drivers; also to distribute copies of the "Safety First" emblem to members for display on their cars and vehicles during the campaign.

The Police Department will undertake the distribution of the posters and pamphlets in Hong Kong and Kowloon—such distribution will be made by Police officers when out on patrol duty and by bill posters specially employed to post placards and handbills. In this connection it may be mentioned that over 200,000 pamphlets in English and Chinese (the great majority in Chinese) have been printed.

Cinemas To Co-operate.

The meeting unanimously approved that the manager of the Hong Kong Tramway Company should be approached to sanction the posting of slogans and handbills in the trams. Similar steps should also be taken with the bus companies.

In addition, the Police Department was commissioned to approach cinema proprietors to exhibit short notices on the "Safety First" campaign at the commencement of the regular performances; and also, if possible, to include in their programmes some material relevant to a "Safety First" campaign on the lines indicated by the Police picture placard of a motor accident.

New Year Brings A Message Of Hope

Never Too Late To Make Resolutions

WORLD NEEDS ASSURED PEACE

(By A Local Padre.)

(This is another of the series of articles written exclusively for the "Sunday Herald" by a local Army chaplain.)

ALREADY we are well on into the first month of another year. The old one has gone, never to return. On this, the first Sunday of the new, it is a fitting moment to look back upon the things we have done, and left undone, during the last twelve months.

So far we have not had much time. Every day and most nights seem to be so full up with social engagements, that we almost have forgotten the fact that another milestone has been passed along the road of life's journey. When a good workman has finished his job, he stands back and regards it before getting on with the next one. But looking at a thing and seeing it, is not always the same thing. We cannot really see a thing, unless we are aware of all its flaws as well as its perfections.

And it is in this critical spirit that we should stand back and look at things, in the light of a New Year, seeing not only the things that we can honestly say we have done well, but also the things we have bungled and missed, and failed to accomplish.

And as we look back, we find that not one of us has gone through the year without putting a foot wrong somewhere. We may think that we have done our very best, but it is a million to one that somebody is not quite as satisfied with us and our performance; as we are with ourselves.

But it is all past history now. We cannot recall it, but the New Year comes to us with a message of hope. It bids us to sponge off all the blunders of the past from the slates of life, wipe off the remembrances of our failures and our follies and the misdeeds we have done.

We have probably made our good resolutions, and we shall probably break far more of them than we shall keep. But it is better to make a good resolution than never to have made one. For though we fail in our resolve, we did intend to keep it. It is the man who accepts defeat in his first battle, who is the weakling.

"Don't Taunt The Trier"

Never laugh at the man who makes up his mind to start the New Year with a clean sheet. No matter what a fool, what a blunderer, or what an evil man he may have been, don't laugh at him when he has firmly resolved to do better. Try and help him to stick to his good resolutions if you can, at least do not taunt him that his record in the past gives little hope of better things in the future. For where there is breath in a man there is hope for him, and he may hope for himself.

Reforms, whether of men or of Nations do not come by chance. They are the results of intent and honest striving. It took centuries of work and warfare all the skill and courage of which men were capable, to weld together the great Commonwealth of Nations, known to-day as the British Empire. There were failures again and again. There were black spots that stand out in the background, but they have fallen back into the picture. The vision that led them on, never failed to give it light and its inspiration. More often than once we have had our backs to the wall, but our inherent and indomitable national will has pulled us through.

Chinese Church Progress

Whatever this year may hold for us as a Nation, we can face it with hope and confidence. The economic tide seems to have turned. There seems a definite upward trend in commercial and industrial possibilities. All the world needs to-day is an assured prospect of peace, in which quietly to work out her material development.

What of the Christian Church? Before her lies another year pregnant with opportunity. Her mission remains the same, the field of her endeavour is not lessened. The need is greater than ever for all that she has to give the world of the Spirit and life-giving power of her Divine Master.

The Chinese Church, fully conscious of the tremendous part, she can, and must play is stepping boldly forward in the van of progress relying less and less on the Western Church for material and finance, full of missionary endeavour, and the zeal that must spell success. Slowly but surely the good news of Bethlehem, with all that it means of hope and inspiration, is being carried into the far corners of this vast Country.

What of ourselves?—What are our resolutions for the year that has already begun?

Someone suggested the following as a rough basis:—

Honest slopping instead of slackening.

Loyal service for the ancient game of twisting.

Cheery mutual help instead of cut-throat rivalry.

There is no question that if we did try to carry them into effect in our private and business relationships, the world would pretty soon be a very different place.

Slackness.

It is an unfortunate fact that life out here is so crowded with other things that we are apt to get rather slack in keeping up the things that belong to the deeper side of our natures. Why not start again? Give God a chance to do something with us and through us.

Even if we do fail, we do not have to wait for another year to begin again.

"Every day is a fresh beginning." Every day is the world made new. You who are weary of sorrow and sinning,

Here is a wonderful hope for you. A hope for me and a hope for you. All the past things are past and over.

We cannot undo, and cannot atone, God, in His mercy receive, forgive them.

To-day is ours, and to-day alone. Yesterday's errors let yesterday cover.

Yesterday's wounds that smarted and bled

Are healed with the healing that night has shed.

Every day is a fresh beginning. Then listen, my soul to the glad refrain.

And spite of old sorrow and older sinning

And troubles forecast and possible pain,

Take heart with the day, and begin again.

Remembering that every day in the year is just the very day to start afresh.

THIS WORLD OF OURS.

ODD FACTS OF SCIENCE IN EVERYDAY LIFE.

For the last three years the province of Bengal has supplied more than 95 per cent. of the raw jute exported from India, the world's sole commercial source of that commodity.

An air conditioner for railroad cars, operating much on the same principle as those recently put in service on American railroads, was patented by a Philadelphia inventor in 1855.

Apparatus invented by a London physician separates the colour of paints into their three primary colours and tells the exact proportions of each so that the paint can be reproduced.

A rifle has been invented with which the bullets, squeezed as they pass through the barrel from .35 to .25 calibre, have about twice the velocity of the best military rifle bullets.

Messrs. E. A. Pierce & Co. Report:—There was nothing in to-day's market of any great interest. We doubt if there will be any early change. Wheat: The Trade was not inclined to pay much attention to routine news, and is awaiting further developments in Washington. According to a recent estimate, farm reserves have decreased 100,000,000 bushels, compared with 1932. Cotton: Speculative demand was smaller, apparently being temporarily checked by the reactionary tendencies of the grain and security markets. Silver: Steadier. London and Shanghai were off-set by the decline in Sterling. Traders are generally watching for further developments in the silver remonetization agitation.

NEW TERRITORIES' AGRICULTURE

ment for its annual grant and to the various institutions, commercial houses and individuals for their generous donations and support. Some of the staunchest supporters of this annual Show are: The Kowloon Residents' Association, the Hong Kong & Shanghai Banking Corporation, the British American Tobacco Company, the Bank of China, Oversea-Chinese Banking Corporation, Ltd., Kowloon Motor Bus, the China Light & Power Company (1918) Ltd., Messrs. Graca & Co. and many others; also to Sir Robert Ho Tung, at whose Experimental Farm, "Tung Ying Hek Po," the first Agricultural Show was held, and where the Committee of the New Territories Agricultural Association holds its monthly meetings throughout the year.

Finance. The accounts for the year ended March 31, 1933 show total receipts amounting to $6,605.34, made up as follows:—Balance in hand from last year, $1,170.29; Annual Government grant $2,000; Membership Fees, $1,572.80; Donations and Miscellaneous Receipts, $1,762.25.

Expenditure for the year amounted to $4,416.56, leaving a balance in hand of $2,088.78.

Chairman's Speech. At the opening of the Show by the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, the Chairman, Mr. H. R. Wells, after thanking Mr. Braga for his part in the ceremony and alluding to his continued interest in the work of the Association, said that, after eight years of these shows, though it must be confessed that the quality of some produce had not greatly improved, in others there was a marked advance.

"Our real object," he said, "is to improve the conditions of the farmers, and other residents on the Territories, and various plans have been suggested. Among others we have been helping a school to carry on a small experimental plot and employed an assistant to advise farmers."

"It was at one time intended to operate a loan scheme, but on His Excellency the Governor stating that this would hinder him from becoming our President we omitted that part of our plan."

"But it is still our aim to assist the people in various ways, such as in providing more and better seed, fertilisers and plants and in propaganda leading to improved methods of agriculture, and also in assisting the people to market their goods on a co-operative basis."

"Much of our time this year has been given to considering the details of such a scheme, and we have evolved a plan which must depend for its fulfilment on the willingness of the people to take shares in the proposed scheme."

"If it should prove that they are not willing to do this, our energies must be directed into another channel."

The Water Question. "We have considered various proposals for improving the water supply, and if the Government would support some of these schemes, it might be the means of saving many crops."

"In 1933 the first rice crop was not good owing to continued drought; and, in fact, in both crops the results have not been up to standard, but a much larger supply of vegetables has been grown, and this has saved the situation for many farmers."

"Much attention has also been given to questions connected with live stock, and poultry, and we are endeavouring to find out real methods of saving the animals from the result of disease."

We do not yet know whether the diseases are peculiar to South China, or are general diseases which attack animals everywhere. Enquiries from Ling Nan University reveal the fact that they have not yet found an effective method to save animals in times of epidemic diseases."

"We are still studying the subject of fowls, and would welcome any help in solving the problems. Lack of funds has hindered us so far from doing all that we should like to do."

"Steps have been taken to look for a suitable site for our permanent building, but the site has not yet been found. The matter is constantly before us, and a sub-committee is engaged in the search."

"The campaign for securing funds for the year's work was conducted by Mr. Chiu Kam To who had the able assistance of Dr. Y. H. Tsao of the Chinese Y. M. C. A. We are glad to say that though our friends were unable to secure all they were aiming for, we have received enough to carry on up to the present."

The Chairman concluded by thanking Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung for their constant co-operation in the work of the Association; Mr. J. D. Bush, Mr. C. Tetzol, Mr. Fung Ki-chenk and Mr. Tang Wei-tong for the time and energy expended on its behalf; and the various firms and individuals whose donations and subscriptions had enabled them to carry on their work.

Mr. Braga's Speech. The Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, before declaring the show open, said that he had a vivid recollection of the occasion, six years ago, when the Show was held in Lady Ho Tung's Sheung Shui farm—the Tung Ying Hek Po—and when the then Governor, Sir Cecil Clementi, G.C.M.G., performed the opening ceremony.

Mr. Braga expressed his gratification at the presence of such old and esteemed associates as the Rev. Mr. Wells, Mr. Fung Ki-chenk, Mr. H. Green, Mr. Tang Wei-tong, Mr. Tong Kak-kau and the other Chinese gentlemen of the New Territories.

"I am glad also to see among us Lady Ho Tung, whose practical interest in the New Territories has found visible expression in her benefactions to the people of these Territories," he said.

After congratulating the organisers, he said that Mr. Wells had modestly made a confession that the quality of some of the exhibits had not greatly improved, but at the same time he had mentioned papayas and tomatoes as having shown marked improvement.

Improved Transportation. "When one considers the conditions under which you have laboured in the past and the physical difficulties you have to contend with, I think there is every reason for satisfaction that the produce of your fields has increased both in quantity and variety until you were able to get together a collection of over 120 varieties for the first British Empire Fair, he said."

"Thanks to improved means of transportation, especially facilities of motor conveyance and the operation of the vehicular ferry, vegetables from the New Territories find their way to-day in increasing quantities into the markets of Kowloon and Hong Kong. No more pleasing sight meets the eye of the resident travelling by the vehicular ferries than the daily truck-loads of succulent vegetables on their way to the markets in Hong Kong."

"That interest in your work is very real is established by the fact, strange as it may appear to you, that the British Empire Fair in Hong Kong originated in a modest suggestion from Lady Peel in pursuance of the programme of Empire Food on Empire Day for the consumption in Hong Kong of potatoes from the New Territories. From the consumption of New Territories potatoes by the inhabitants of Hong Kong on Empire Day, the idea broadened into one of other produce from the New Territories until the Farm Section of the Fair became not the least important in the Exhibition."

Development Suggestions. "Mr. Wells indicates an invitation for suggestions to improve the work of the Agricultural Association. Without any expert knowledge it is not for me to say exactly how you might develop the agricultural resources of the New Territories. As an interested observer, however, and a sincere well-wisher of the peasantry, I trust I may be permitted to offer a little advice. That advice takes the form of a suggestion that, good and sound as your methods might have been in the old days, when conservatism towards the traditional systems and methods of your country was good enough, in these times of keen competition not only in agriculture but in all other forms of industry and in the light of modern, scientific knowledge, systems and methods must be altered so as to conform with the needs and demands of present-day standards."

"I would impress upon the farmers the need for welcoming advice from your sponsors—the New Territories Agricultural Association—in whom you find your best guides, counsellors and friends. Fertilization of the soil, better seeds, greater productivity, eradication of insect pests, proper irrigation, the utilisation of labour-saving implements and devices, and quick transportation, are axiomatic truths which, I trust, might be accepted so that the results of your labours might be made in the future much more fruitful and materially profitable to yourselves than in the past."

An Expanding Market.

"I have state that New Territories produce is going in larger quantities into the markets of Hong Kong and Kowloon. Increasingly large as the quantity is becoming from year to year, it is still very far short of the entire quantity consumed within the limits of the Colony. In fact, there is still plenty of room for a larger production of New Territories vegetables and fruit, and also of poultry and eggs. As to the last mentioned your production is infinitesimal compared with the imported article. I am given to understand that the demand is always there, and if your fields and farms could be made to produce twice, five, or even ten times as much as you are producing to-day, your produce will find a ready and willing market to absorb it, provided, of course, the quality is maintained."

"You should not be above seeking, accepting and acting upon technical advice, and in this connection I am happy to think that a serious effort is about to be made by your Association to organise such advice that will be easily available to you. You might with advantage to yourselves watch closely what is being done in the experimental farm conducted under the expert supervision and direction of Mr. H. Green and his assistants."

MANY HAPPY RETURNS FROM THE LAUNDRY

And another thing about Vivella. It never suffers from that "before-and-after" feeling. Vivella always looks as smart and comfortable and fascinating every time it comes back from the laundry as it did the day you bought it. Yes — every time, for one of Vivella's many distinctive virtues is that it won't wear out; its colours never fade, its fabric is born not to shrink or diverge from its pristine shapeliness. Age cannot wither nor constant use stale its infinite charm. Vivella remains faithful and steadfast, ever superior to hard wear; emerging hale and hearty from the weekly wash tub; proof against sun, against body-moisture, against all kinds of climate. Many happy returns to Vivella.

In the loose scrums the Club failed to get the ball, Forbes sending his threequarters away with many a fine pass from out of these.

The Navy opened the scoring within the first five minutes of the game when Forbes scrambled over the Club line from a scrum down on the Club's five-yard line. Linton failed to majorise the effort.

From the kick-off the Club pressed, Solby cleverly selling the dummy to Forbes to break clean through the Navy forwards and backs. When confronted by Buckley and with nobody to pass the ball to he attempted to avenge round his opponent, but was grassed.

From the resultant scrum down the Club pressed, but Miers and his backs tackled determinedly, during which period the former was injured and left the field with a wrenched knee. He, however, returned in three minutes.

From a scrum down the Navy threequarters were set going by Forbes who slung out a lovely pass, but Garwood handled badly to drop Marsh's pass and spoil what might have resulted in a try.

From the resultant scrum down Forbes flashed the ball to Miers who took the Club's defence by surprise when he dropped a lovely goal, bringing the Navy's total to seven.

THE STANDINGS

The following are the standings to date:

	P.	W.	L.	F.	Pts.
Navy	3	3	0	48	6
Army	2	1	1	20	2
Club	3	0	3	13	0

Just before the interval the Navy dominated play, but the brilliant display of Whitham prevented any immediate score. Garwood tried a solo run but was tackled round the neck by Whitham and had to leave the field suffering from a wrenched neck. He, however, soon returned.

Just before the interval the Navy went further ahead when Miers sent Wooten over for a try on the left touchline, Buckley just failing with the kick.

In the second half the Navy played a depleted team, Miers leaving the field for good after 10 minutes play, Hammett dropping out of the scrum to fill the vacancy. Just on time Garwood put the issue beyond doubt when he cut through from a scrum down to go over near the posts, Linton converted easily.

Captain Gottwalt refereed and lined up the following:
Navy:—Lt. Buckley (Midway); Lt. Campbell (Suffolk), Sub-Lt. Garwood (Kent), Sto. Marsh (Wren), A. B. Wooten (Kent), Lt. Miers (Midway), Lt. Forbes (Midway); Comdr. Rooms (Midway), Ldg. Cook Pascoe (Berwick), Lt. Linton (Midway), Lt. Evans (Suffolk), Lt. Nixon (Suffolk), Lt. Brown (Cumberland), Lt. Whitfield (Falmouth) and E. A. Hammett (Cumberland).

INDIA MAKE POOR START IN SECOND TEST

while C. K. Naidu sent down 23 overs for 40 runs and 3 wickets.

India made a disastrous start when Naidum left with only 12 runs on the board and Husain was forced to return to the pavilion as the result of being hit on the head by a ball from Nichols when 7.

Worse was to follow for two wickets fell for the addition of only 16 runs. Wazir Ali and Merchant, however, added 63 for the fourth wicket before the former was caught off Verity for 39.

When stumps were drawn India had scored 90 for 4—313 behind.

GRIMMETT'S RECORD

In the Sheffield Shield match at Adelaide in which South Australia beat New South Wales by ten wickets C. V. Grimmett claimed his 300th wicket in Shield cricket. He took 5 for 105 to establish a new record for the series.

Penalty Goal Gives East Lanes Game.

BRITAIN'S MISFORTUNE

A penalty goal scored in the second half gave the East Lancashire a well deserved victory in their match with the Police at Caroline Hill yesterday.

In a tussle before his own goal in the second half Britain accidentally handled and a penalty kick was awarded to the Lanes. Woods took the kick and made no mistake, sending a fast "daisy-cutter" that gave McHardy no chance.

In the last few minutes of play McHardy and Horner met rather heavily, McHardy injuring a knee and Horner being carried off the field with a sprained ankle.

Police:—McHardy; Blackburne, G. Pile, Gough, Stephens, Brittain; T. Pile, Brooks, Moss, Green and Brown. East Lanes:—Fenn; Swain, Gorman; Ball, Thompson, North; Salmon, Horner, Lawton, Woods and Sandford.

Champions Seek Revenge.

S. CHINA v LINCOLNS THIS AFTERNOON

The biggest clash in the Hong Kong soccer season takes place this afternoon when South China, the premier league champions, entertain the Lincolns, present leaders, at Caroline Hill at 4 p.m. in their First Division return encounter. South China are all out to win this afternoon's game and are eager to wipe out memories of their defeat three weeks ago.

The following are the teams:—Lincolns:—Duncan, Roden and Edmondson; Dudley, Cork and Bett, Baldry, McGuinness, Higgins, Ridley and Hoggard (Captain). South China:—Pau Ka-ping; Li Tinsang and Lau Mau; Leung In-chun, Leung Wing-chui and Lee Kwok-wai; Yeung Shui-yick, Tay Quee-lung, Fung King-cheung, Tam Kong-pak and Ng Po-ku.

At Sookunpoo at 4 p.m. the Borderers, who have regained their winning form of last year, meet the Athletic and should record a win.

JUNIOR SHIELD.

Borderers Overwhelm Young Indians.

In a very interesting game at Happy Valley the Borderers defeated the Young Indians by three clear goals in the first round of the Junior Shield. The Indians were expected to put up a much better fight but found the Borderers on top of their form and the soldiers had the game well in hand from the start.

A. K. Omar was quickly called upon to clear and within three minutes, a defender was penalised for Horbert to score from the spot. The Borderers played excellent football after this success, the Indians occasionally breaking through with some neat passing. Herbert and Jenkins were, however, equal to these attacks. O. M. Omar and Dean were none too safe under pressure, but the Borderers missed many good scoring chances. There were numerous exciting tussles round the Indians goal, which again fell when Court scored with a brilliant drive.

The Young Indians improved and should have scored from a penalty, but Williams made an excellent save from A. M. Omar.

After the interval the Borderers continued on the offensive with the Indians fighting hard to keep the score down. Haroon and Omar (A. M.) putting in some good work in the forward line. Near the end Morris placed the issue beyond doubt when he closed the goal to score the Borderers' third goal.

Borderers:—Williams; Herbert, Jenkins; Williams, Court, Whelan; John, Pallister, Morris, Marshall and Seale.

Young Indians:—A. K. Omar; O. M. Omar, Dean; Marker, Hussain, Razack; Arculli, Haroon, A. M. Omar, Azim and Yams.

THE TIGER OF TIBET

busy fighting out a way of escape. How could I have told you, sahib?" "Of course not. But tell us now." "There is not time for all, sahib, just yet. But it will suffice to say that Jogaroo met me the day after you were captured. He brought news of another attack on the padre-sahib's house. He escaped, but the others were killed. He is a good man and brought all the spare cartridges which we had left behind, as he thought they might be useful. He can also speak the Tibetan tongue, and yesterday we bought some ponies—I have chosen good ones—and here is waiting with them at the appointed spot."

"But buy? The Tibetans often want more than a hundred rupees for a good pony. How about money?"

"Oh, I bought them with the rubles."

"The rubles!" Geoffrey almost yelled.

"What rubles?" "Oh, I forgot. Of course you did not know. The rubles I found yesterday."

"Where?" "On a messenger that the 'Tiger' was sending down to Delhi."

* * *

Then Geoffrey remembered Bulbul's fury of the night before and understood. So it was old Sher Khan after all. But the others still stared in blank astonishment.

"The 'Tiger' sent a batch of rubles down to Delhi in order to replenish their funds there. Sher Khan waylaid the messenger. There you have it all."

"I think we had better start now, sahib. I will tell you my story later. I have not much to tell, but perchance you will be interested."

"You bet we will, Sher Khan. Well, I agree with you about starting. Will you go first? The padre-sahib will follow next, and then you and I can help him between us if he needs assistance. Phyllis, do you mind bringing up the rear?"

"Of course, not, Geoff, and I will hold on to you tight. But you and Sher Khan will help father, won't you?"

"Rather. Now then, came along."

Sher Khan crawled through the gap first and then Geoffrey handed him the lantern. He held it for the others as they followed one by one. They found themselves at the bottom of a flight of stone steps. Sher Khan then started ascending with the lantern in one hand, and with the other he supported Mr. Merridew. Geoffrey and Phyllis followed immediately behind, clasping each other's hands, and helping the missionary whenever he seemed in any difficulties.

"I suppose Geoff, that there is no fear of the 'Tiger' knowing of this way out?"

"No, none. I am positive of that. Why, that stone had obviously not been moved for years, and possibly not even for centuries."

The steps led upwards for some fifty yards. They ascended very slowly, for Mr. Merridew was feeling the effects of the high altitude very much in his exhausted condition. The others had all become more acclimatised, as will happen after any lengthy sojourn near the fifteen-thousand-foot level. In the case of very great heights, such as twenty thousand feet, the longer one stays up the worse the effects become, but five thousand feet lower it is different so long as one keeps approximately to that level.

Suddenly the steps ceased and the floor of the tunnel became earth. The roof became lower and

MOTORING NOTES.

CAR HAS EVOLVED "ON ITS OWN."

No Government Help Or Supervision.

It is to be remembered that no Government department has hustled the motor-car maker into providing good value for money. He has provided it of his own accord.

If an aeroplane is good, the Air Ministry can take some of the credit; for aeroplanes must be made to specific standards in order to obtain their Certificates of Airworthiness.

But there is no Certificate of Roadworthiness for private motor-cars; and private motor-cars are the most controllable, quickest, safest, and, in a word, the most roadworthy, of all vehicles to-day.

PETROL AND OIL ECONOMY

Cars were shown at Olympia capable of doing more than 40 miles to the gallon, carrying two grown up people. In general, oil consumption too has been reduced, and it is rare to find a car in the medium-power class with a consumption worse than a gallon of oil to 1,000 miles.

lower as they advanced until they were compelled to crawl on hands and knees. Mr. Merridew was obviously very distressed, but he bravely kept on, although Geoffrey insisted on calling frequent halts on his account.

The gradient fortunately was not so steep, which made progress decidedly less exacting.

Geoffrey guessed that they must have crawled for over an hour twisting and turning, now to the right for a few yards and then back to the left, for ever ascending. Even Sher Khan was showing signs of fatigue, but Mr. Merridew refused to admit that he was in any way unfit for continuing the advance.

At last Sher Khan gave a shout as he turned another corner. (Continued on Page 15.)

NEW VAUXHALL "A" TYPE CAR

Sir Malcolm Campbell Gives Two-Day Test.

THEN PURCHASES ONE FOR HIS OWN USE

Sir Malcolm Campbell, the famous holder of the world's land speed record, has shown in the most practical manner possible his opinion of the new Vauxhall "A" type car by himself purchasing one.

Sir Malcolm is also the Motoring Editor of the London Field, and is quite beyond being influenced by special prices or concessions into giving a biased opinion on any particular make of car.

The Vauxhall Company, on the completion of their new "A" type, enquired of the Editor of the Field if the Motoring Editor would consent to make a test run in the car. Somewhat to their surprise the request was granted and Sir Malcolm not only tried out the car in every possible way on a two-days' run, but followed the test up by writing an enthusiastic article in praise of the car, and also ordered one for his own private use.

Since, then Sir Malcolm has allowed himself to be photographed in the car and given his consent to the publication of these photographs by the Vauxhall Company for publicity purposes.

A "BEST SELLER" IN CARS.

Vauxhall Light Six.

Few cars have had such an enthusiastic welcome as the Vauxhall Light Six. In less than four months some 5,000 of these cars have been sold.

There are two horse powers; the 12 h.p. model for those who want Vauxhall performance at lowest operating costs, and the 14 h.p. model for an extra reserve of power and turn of speed. Both models have Vauxhall Super Synchro-mesh easy change gear box.

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK 8-CYLINDER CARS:

Thirty years have rolled by since the Buick Motor Company built its first automobile. And what a story these years have told of Buick quality, reliability and capacity to give more and better miles. More than 2,700,000 Buick cars have been produced. Each year a better Buick—each built as Buick builds—with the result that more than 47 per cent. of them are still in operation to-day, many having served five, ten, even twenty years. Everyone who knows motor cars knows how these 2,700,000 Buicks have written the proof of Buick quality on the roads of the world. Long ago, Buick's finer, more faithful performance became an international tradition. Records of Buicks that have gone 200,000 miles or more have become almost commonplace. And favor for Buick has increased year after year, until to-day more people choose Buick than all ten other makes in its price range combined, and nine out of ten say they will buy BUICKS again. A motor car has to be better to compile such a record over a period of thirty years. Its manufacturer has to mean his promise—"When better automobiles are built, Buick will build them."

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK Motor Cars have been made in Canada since 1907. No Local Tax. No Canadian Premium. McLAUGHLIN-BUICK makes "Straight 8's" exclusively. All our 1933 Models have been sold and delivered. Announcement of 1934 Models on 119-inch, 128-inch and 136-inch Wheel-base Chassis will be made at an early date. FIRESTONE BATTERIES:

The reason for the unusual performance of FIRESTONE Batteries is best understood when you know how they are made. Only highest grades of raw materials are used. More scientific compounding and processing and more efficient machinery have been developed. Only skilled workmen are employed. 30 to 34% more strength is built into the plates. Every Firestone Battery exceeds the rigid specifications of the American Society of Automotive Engineers. Telephone 30228 or 30229—THE DRAGON MOTOR CAR COMPANY, LTD., Distributors of Firestone Batteries.

FIRESTONE SPARK PLUGS:

A new set of FIRESTONE SPARK PLUGS puts new pep into lazy engines. As motor vehicle engines vary in design, Spark Plugs of different Thermal, Electrical and Mechanical qualities are required. It is essential therefore that you have the exactly correct type of Spark Plug for your particular vehicle. To prevent fouling fit a hotter Spark Plug. Fouled plugs are recognised by the oil and carbon on the insulator. To prevent pre-ignition fit a cooler spark plug. Plugs causing pre-ignition are recognised by blistered condition of the insulator at the firing end. There are eight different types of Firestone Metric size Spark Plugs as well as eight different types of the inch size plugs. The price is $1.50 each. Telephone 30228 or 30229—THE DRAGON MOTOR CAR COMPANY, LTD., Distributors of Firestone Batteries.

CONTRACT BRIDGE NOTES

By "CLAY"

These notes are written by one of the Colony's leading bridge players who is prepared to solve any problem for readers. All communications should be addressed to "Contract Bridge" c/o The Sunday Herald.

Article No. 1.

Bridge is usually played as a pleasant past-time for inconsiderable stakes without much thought of gain. We naturally like to win and on the whole winning is a good criterion of our play. There are no doubt cases of specially lucky or unlucky card-holders but most players will candidly admit that over a period luck tends to cover out. Good play is therefore the essence of success and ultimately the decisive factor.

Good play alone is not sufficient. Although examination of the idiosyncrasies and characteristics of opponents and partners is a very necessary adjunct at the club or in the home circle, where we are continually in opposition or partnership with the same people, the necessary knowledge should be easily obtained. Do we always bother.

If a player adopts a rule of thumb or yard stick method of play and fails to use his imagination, he will let slip opportunities of making game or a good partial score and after permit his opponents to get away with easy contracts. Study other players and their methods. A sticky partner must often be insinuated gently into a game contract by a judicious bid which forces him to indicate his full strength. This can be done with confidence as experience of his methods and mentality are known to you from previous play. You know that so often his opening bid of one Heart or Spade is backed up by considerable additional material.

On the other hand be chary of giving to ready support to the over optimistic partner as like as not he will jump to a game contract on the merest whisper from your side of the table.

A number of hands are thrown in which might achieve a good partial score and sometimes even game, owing to the psychological factor being ignored by partners. Take the following distribution a type of situation by no means uncommon.

North
S-K 10 9 6 2
H-A J 9
D-A 7
C-J 8 2
South
S-A J 7
H-10 6
D-K 10 6 2
C-A 10 7 6

North-South Vulnerable. East Dealer, you are sitting in the North position your partner South you know to be a very conservative player.

East-South and West pass. You are fourth in hand and vulnerable. Your holding is somewhat weak to open on, but there are certain considerations that come to your mind. East and West are not vulnerable yet they have not bid. X your partner is a terribly careful old thing. How after have you heard him say, on the hands being thrown in—"I had a bare 2½ partner."

With your holding, I advocate an opening bid of one shade in this case. You know that South will only support you if he has something solid so there is little danger even though you are vulnerable, and there is a good chance of better things.

South should respond with three spades, in which case you can bid game in spades or no trumps. I prefer the latter with a partner of South's mentality. He is sure to put you back into Spades if his holding in that suit is long and strong, contrarily. If he has good all round support he will prefer the cheaper contract.

After your initial one Spade should be reply, as is more than likely, with a bid of 2 Spades only. I recommend a two no-trumps bid on your hand for the reasons indicated above. If South has the support he must bid again and you will arrive at a game contract which apart from some extraordinary distribution must be made. With the other of partner you

"We are out! I see daylight ahead!"

"Then keep quiet," called Geoffrey. "Remember that we are still near the temple."

In another minute Sher Khan extinguished the lamp and poked his head out into the sunlight.

He looked cautiously round. "I think we are all right, sahib. We are well above the temple. I can just see one end of the roof over the top of a ridge. Come and look."

Geoffrey squeezed his way past Mr. Merriwell and joined Sher Khan. He saw the bit of the temple which Sher Khan had mentioned nearly a thousand feet below them.

"I don't like risking any movement by daylight. Where is your rendezvous with Jagaroo?"

"Down there on our left, about a mile away from the temple."

"As near as that? Is it safe?" "I think so, sahib. Have I not often told you that it is darkest under the lamp? We found a deep cleft in the side of the mountain with a very narrow entrance. It will make a good hiding-place for several horses."

"But don't the 'Tiger's' men know of it?"

"I do not think so. I could find no tracks or traces of its ever having been used. I do not see why they should need a hiding-place so near their own nest. But I agree with you, sahib, I do not think that we ought to risk moving until night has fallen. Happily here is a moon."

The mouth of the tunnel was situated on the northern slopes of the mountain, and it was very soon darkened by the shadow of a mass of rock. As soon as they were thus hidden from the sun's rays the cold became intense, yet they did not dare to move out into the open. Further, all four were suffering acutely from hunger. Hitherto they had had so much with which to preoccupy their minds that they had forgotten about the need for food or drink, but the period of forced inaction soon brought realization of the fact home to them. Mr. Merriwell especially was in a bad way. Geoffrey and Sher Khan wrapped him up in some of their own garments, but even so he sat and shivered, although he ever had a cheery reply ready when addressed.

They sat huddled close together for mutual warmth. Geoffrey had an arm round Phyllis, who in turn was holding her father, while Sher Khan completed the tiny circle.

Geoffrey realised that something must be done to try and take their thoughts away from the immediate present. "Look here, Sher Khan, you have not yet told me how you managed to find your way into the temple."

"Well, sahib, it is not much of a story; but such as it is I will tell."

The Pathan began, stopping at frequent intervals in order to enable Geoffrey to translate his words to Phyllis.

"You know, sahib, I never did like your plan of visiting that Tibetan in the white man's camp alone, but as it happened it was all for the best, for otherwise we would both have been captured at the same time. When you left me I determined to follow without your knowledge, as I thought that if everything went well no harm would be done, while I might be able to render help in case of treachery. Accordingly as soon as you had departed I wrapped up both our rifles in one of my skin blankets, and, strapping them on my back, I followed in your tracks. I reached the outskirts of the camp soon after you, and saw the Tibetan greet you like a brother. Then I felt sure he intended treachery, for no Tibetan cares for anything except money or murder. At least that is my experience, although I admit that it has not been very great."

cannot take a risk, your argument in this case would be "Well South has had his chance and said nothing if I know anything he must be pretty weak" your opponents may know South's mentality equally well and will sit back in the hope of an indiscretion. It would be foolish to give him a chance of pushing you into a dangerous contract so you must throw in.

TREACHEROUS Months for COLDS 'FLU & RHEUMATISM

DECEMBER, JANUARY and FEBRUARY are treacherous months for Colds, 'Flu, Rheumatisms, Sciatica, and Lumbago. Cold, piercing winds — sudden rain storms — wet feet — over-heated rooms — draughts — all tend to bring on sudden attacks of Cold, 'Flu, Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago, which may quickly become serious if not nipped in the bud. At the first sign or symptom of common Colds or Influenza, take 'ASPRO' according to the directions on the leaflet in the packet. 'ASPRO' will prevent developments of simple attacks that may become serious if neglected. 'ASPRO' brings quick relief and removes the cause of the complaint, because, after ingestion in the system, it is a powerful germicide — a solvent of uric acid and is antiseptic — antipyretic — anti-periodic and anti-fermentative. Furthermore, 'ASPRO' does not harm the heart. Always have on hand.

'ASPRO'

'ASPRO' BRINGS SWEET SLEEP TO THE SLEEPLESS

There are many thousands of people who now have sweet peaceful sleep, who hitherto hardly knew the meaning of a period of restfulness. 'ASPRO' has brought about the transformation by its sweet soothing influence on the nerves, and breaking up of local feverish conditions. Two tablets before retiring is the usual dose.

First Aid for Mothers

Most children are subject to Tooth-ache, Earache, Colds and sudden bursts of Temperature. 'ASPRO' can be safely given to children so affected. It will soothe the pain away and quickly reduce Temperature.

HOW TO GIVE 'ASPRO' TO CHILDREN

Two simple methods of giving 'ASPRO' to the kiddies are: (a) with a little milk or (b) break the tablet up and administer in a teaspoonful of juice. The dosage is: Children 3 to 6 years, ½ tablet; 6 to 14 years, 1 tablet; 14 to 16 years 1½ tablets. 'ASPRO' like any other medicine should not be given to babies under 3 years of age without medical advice.

Young Marshal Returns

Significant political developments in China's internal affairs are expected from the Young Marshal's return. When asked to which side he will be attached in the present quarrel between Nanking and Fukien he said, "Both". He replied in the affirmative when asked whether he was returning at the call of the Nanking Government, stating that he was coming back at the invitation of General Chiang Kai-shek. He denied that he has already accepted the post of Director of the Military Advisory Council.

"Are you in favour of the 'Fukien rebellion'?" he was asked. "No", he replied in a tone of finality. Mr. Donald, his adviser, stated that the Young Marshal does not yet contemplate a return to political life.

Marshal Chang, who, before the outbreak of the Manchurian invasion, held the post of Vice-Commander-in-Chief of the Army, Navy and Air Forces of the National Government in Nanking, resigned his position last Spring, owing to the people's dissatisfaction with his services. Since then he has been on a tour of the European capitals. Most of his time has been spent in Rome, where he was decorated by Signor Mussolini, and in London, where his wife and sons now reside.

"Have you a message for the Chinese people?" he was finally asked. "In order to save China, and to bring her to the position in which you wish to see her, the young men and women of China must sacrifice themselves," he said. "Living is not the only thing, but it is the way you live that is the essential thing. Sacrifice and work-for China; that is my message."

Marshal Chang spent a very busy afternoon, yesterday, with friends and former associates in Hong Kong, leaving for Shanghai by the Conte Verde last night.

BRITISH TRADE WITH FRANCE

New Commercial Agreement.

JEOPARDISED BY EXPORT QUOTAS

London, Yesterday.

The recent decision of the French Government to reduce the import quota licences in respect of United Kingdom cotton goods by 75 per cent. was discussed at a meeting of exporters at Manchester, yesterday.

The meeting decided to urge the British Government to take strong action to protect the interests of British Trade.

It was emphasised that the reduction in quotas entirely nullified any benefits from the recent abolition of the 15 per cent. surtax on British goods to France.

The meeting suggested that the quotas be fully restored pending the anticipated Anglo-French commercial discussions. — Reuter.

BRITISH OPINION DISTURBED

London, Yesterday.

The full implications of the revision, by France, of her import quotas, are being carefully studied in responsible quarters here, and opinion is much disturbed.

Special attention is directed to the unfavourable effect of these trading restrictions on the prospects of the early initiation of the negotiations for an Anglo-French commercial agreement. — British Wireless Service.
